MANSFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA

With sentiments deep beyond expression; with due appreciation for unstinted aid; with only regret that pleasant connections with her are about to be broken, we, the Class of 1931, respectfully dedicate this record of our achievements,
"Our Carontawan", to Margaret O'Brien.

As has been the case with the first thirteen volumes of "The Little Town on the Hill", this fourteenth Carontawan is dedicated primarily to the cause of sketching the history of your activities and pastimes at Mansfield. The value of this volume to you will depend on your contribution to the events recorded herein. As you pass over these pages in the endless years to come, may they aid you in recalling pleasant days spent in your Alma Mater.

The Student Councils

The student body in the spring of each year elects its officers for the councils of the following year. The Women's Council is composed of eleven members and the Men's Council is composed of eight members.

Since 1926 these two bodies have been working in unison. By joint meetings they handle all the business relative to the standards they have set up. Under this system each council deals with the problems within its own boundaries but the two organizations come together for aids and suggestions from each other.

These governing bodies have for their purpose of existence—service. They serve as a representative group of the student body, holding student supervision over all student social affairs. Through the cooperation by the students the Associations have been able to overcome many former difficulties and to make conditions more pleasant for the student group.

The Councils owe much of their success to the guidance of Dean Fisher and Dean Storch and to an exceptionally fine group of members.

Debating; Y. M. C. A.

In 1929 candidates reported for a try-out for intercollegiate debating. A keen eyed, straight shooting Sophomore appeared. His arguments were convincing and non-refutable. He earned a berth on the team. Again last year his superb rebuttal clinched our victory over Clarion. Bart's effort and scholarship will surely be rewarded.

BASHER, FRANCES C.
"BASHER"

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Group Four

Greenville College, Illinois ('27) ('28); Art Club; Athletic Club; Hockey Team; Basketball; Baseball.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, looking on the bright side of life, seeing the best in mankind, and living with a worthy purpose in mind,—that's Frances. Humor, grit, ambition, and honor,—these are her essential attributes. Keep them a part of you always, Frances.

BEAVER, JULIA M.
"JUDY"

Waynesboro, Pa.
Home Economics

OF II

Student Council (2); Vice President (3); Athletic Club, President (2); Flashlight Board (3) Domicilian Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Dramatic Club (4); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Basketball (1) (2); Baseball (1) (2); Hockey (1) (2).

"Judy" has been one of the outstanding "Home Eccers". She is always right there when it comes to a dance or a game, and now even music hath its charms. We know she will get the best of everything through her own perseverance, personality, and charm.

BLANCHARD, WILLIAM

Covington, Pa.
Group Four

Bill is one of those good-looking brutes that shine when a band croons rhythmically, where classes convene and any situation offers itself. . . . Nuff said.

BRACE, MARIAN LOUISE

Wyoming, Pa.

OF II

Domicilian Club; Y. W. C. A.

People who do not know her think her motto is—"Silence is Golden", but her friends think it to be—"Laughter makes the day grow shorter". We are assured that her quiet nature will find its niche in the world.

BRENNAN, ALICE MARY "BRENNAN"

Group Four

KΔΠ

Latin Club (SPQR) (3) (4); Art Club (1) (2) (3); Cercle Francais (3) (4); Athletic Club (1) (3) (4); Hockey Team; Baseball Team.

The youngest and smallest member of the Senior Class. "Pat"tering through the halls, she comes; a tiny bundle of wit, beauty, and efficiency; clever and keen; the nerviest pal on a mid-night drive; the cleverest schemer of them all—"Our Alice Mary".

BROCK, NORMAN
Y. M. C. A.

Coudersport, Pa.
Group Four

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, jack, queen, king!", that's Brock. He's been one of Mansfield's biggest mainstays in football and at the dances—any place where feet are featured. He's a smooth lineman and has a line all his own. Take it or leave it.

BROWN, AGNES

Middletown, N. Y.
Group Four

In Agnes we have all the qualities one could wish for in a friend. She is always willing to help someone and has a "Word" that always holds good.

She has a twinkle to her eye and a winning smile that bring her a host of friends.

CAPWELL, ELWOOD C.
"CAPPY"

Wyalusing, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Band; Orchestra; Orpheus Glee Club (1); Chorus (2) (3) (4); Y. M. C. A.; Emersonian Literary Society; Music Supervisors' Club; Baldwin's Bandoliers (1) (2); Mansfield State Aces (4); Opera (1) (4).

"Cappy",—we haven't found all the hidden treasures that you conceal. When it comes to originality, you surpass us all. Just as a sentinel knows his post, so "Cappy" understands his fellow beings—consequently our "Cappy" is a friend to man.

CAREY, BETHIA E.
"BETH"

Millville, Pa.

OFH

Domicilian Club (1) (2) (3) (Secretary 4);
Art Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2)
(3) (4).

"She has the essential attributes of a lady—high veracity, delicate honor in her dealings, deference to others, and refined personal habits." What better characteristics could any girl hope to have?

CARPENTER, LOWELL
"CARP"

Ulysses, Pa.
Group Four

"M" Club; Baseball (2) (3) (4); Football (3)
(4); Soccer (1); Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (4); Emersonian Literary Society (3); Flashlight Board (4).

Nightmares and wisecracks are Carpenter's specialties. Graham MacNamee is his ideal. Football and baseball are his present goals. Although Lowell is a confirmed woman hater he is one of the best natured fellows in the school. Too, he has been a fine baseball and football man.

CARPENTER, VAUGHN
"RED"

Lawrenceville, Pa.
Group Four

"Four things a man must learn to do,
If he would make his record true,
To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellow men sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven securely."

CHAMBERLAIN, HAROLD

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

Athenian Literary Society, President 1925; Student Council, Vice President 1925; Y. M. C. A.
'24 and '25; Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Quartette '25

This lanky fellow stands well over six feet with or without socks. And, moreover, he stands just as high up in the world as he does above the ordinary man's head. Thus, if judgment rates from the above list of activities, we surely will have an ideal President after the 1940 election.

COVEY, ELIZABETH Coudersport, Pa.
 "BETTY" OF II Home Economics
Domicilian Club (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3); Emersonian Literary Society (3); Treasurer, Domicilian Club (3); Social Secretary Student Council (3).

She is a modern girl, up to the minute in cooking, sewing, teaching, and that isn't all. She has a dependable business-like ability that can't be omitted, and a sense of humor to balance it.

DAVIS, WENDELL Taylor, Pa.
 "DAVE" Group Four
Freshman Class President '27; Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Rurban Club (1) (2); French Club (3); Emersonian Literary Society (1) (2) (4); Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); "M" Club (4); Debating Team (2) (3); Business Manager Flashlight (2); Y. M. C. A. President (3); Gospel Team (2) (3); Football (1) (2) (3) (4).

Unfailing energy and the ability to do are the chief characteristics of "Dave". He is always busy and doing things. The power to work and work without slowing up is easy for him. In dramatics and oratory he is in his glory.

DAYTON, KENNETH E. Montrose, Pa.
 "KEN" ΦΣΠ Group Four
Emersonian Literary Society (1) (2), President (2); Rurban Club (1); Editor Flashlight (2); Flashlight Board (3); German Club (2) (3); French Club (3) (4); Carontawan Board (2) (3), Editor-in-Chief (4); Manager Football (3); "M" Club (3) (4); Junior Varsity Football (4).

A long list of activities attest to his versatility, scholarship, and popularity. Even from that steady gaze something emanates which seems to say:

"I am the master of my fate;
 I am the captain of my soul."

DINGLER, LEONA JANE Jersey Shore, Pa.
 "DING" Group Four
Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Glee Club (1); Social Proctor (2); Emersonian Literary Society (2) (3); Hiking Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Club (1) (2) (4); French Club (4); German Club (3) (4).

"Ding" is petite. Black hair, dark eyes, and a sparkling wit give her a dash which is unusually attractive. We hope that, when she leaves, her memories of Mansfield will be as pleasant as our memories of her.

DOLL, ELWOOD L.

Tunkhannock, Pa.
Group Four

Y. M. C. A. (3) (4)

Not many of us know Elwood well for he lives out of town; but those who are in his classes realize his high scholastic standing.

Most of us understand why Elwood lives near Wellsboro.

DORSETT, HOWARD E.

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

Philalethens Fraternity 1910-1911.

Howard is one of our number who, though having domestic responsibilities, still has made good his desire for higher scholastic attainment. He has attended schools of greater pretensions, but chose to get his degree from our beloved M. S. T. C.

We are convinced that Howard will have continued success in his chosen field.

DORSETT, LEWIS
"LEW"

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

Capable, intelligent, and jolly is Lewis. With his many years of teaching back of him, he has acquired an outlook on life to be envied.

Call me a friend or a fool—little I care,
I go with all, who, daring to, dare.

DOUGHTON, MARGARET
"PEG"

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

KΔΠ

Art Club (1) (2), (President 3); German Club (1) (2) (3) (4), (Treasurer 1); French Club (3); Hiking Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Carontawan Board (3) (4); Kappa Delta Pi., (Corresponding Secretary (3) (4)).

Jolly, pleasing, lovable, capable, ambitious, clever, scholarly,—Oh! to sing her praises would tire a calliope; to count her friends would make an adding machine weary. Did you ask the secret of her success? \

"Just think out your work,
And work out your think."

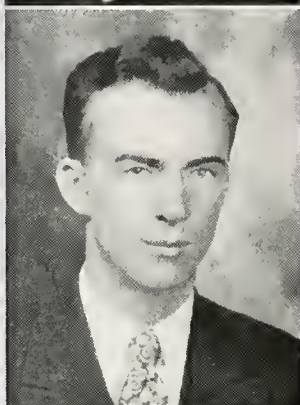

DRISCOLL, HELEN R.

Plymouth, Pa.
Home Economics

OGII

Y. W. C. A.; Domicilian Club; Athletic Club.

Personality, wit, charm—she has them all. Never a truer friend, never a better sport than Helen. She's chock full of pep and always at hand when there's excitement. Of course she studies too, and always has her work done on time.

DUNBAR, ALONZO
"AL"

Columbia Cross Roads, Pa.
Group Four.

ΦΣΠ

Le Cercle Francais (3) (4); President (4); Student Council (4); Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); "M" Club; Carontawan Board (3) (4); Intramural Basketball (1) (2) (3); Junior Varsity Basketball, (4); Junior Varsity Football (4); Varsity Baseball (3) (4).

Although "Al" comes from some place out in the great unknown, i. e., Big Pond, he is by no means unknown on our fair campus. He's a great pal, witty and versatile to the Nth degree.

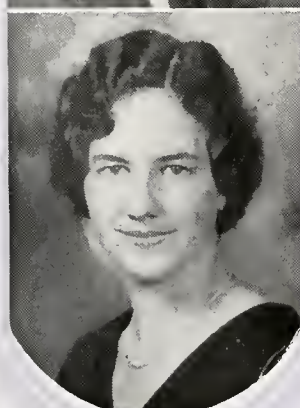

EDGCOMB, ESTHER M.
"PAT"

Knoxville, Pa.
Home Economics

OGII

Y. W. C. A.; Emersonian Literary Society; Art Club.

Petite, graceful and charming—these describe "Pat" perfectly. Her wit and good humor have banished our blues more times than we can remember. She is very industrious and is always prepared in her classes. She is all that anyone could desire in a friend.

EIGHMEY, CAROL J.
"EIGHMEY"

Millerton, Pa.
Group Four

Hiking Club President (3); Ganonkwenon President (4); Athletic Club (1) (2); Emersonian Literary Society (3) (4); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Flashlight Board (4); Social Proctor (4).

A real pal and friend, is Carol.

When we look at her we see one of the most beautiful, charming, and cheerful girls of M. S. T. C. She is loved by everyone. Blues vanish in her presence. May she ever be as happy in the cruel, cold world, as she has been in school.

ELLISON, ERMA "ERMA"

Coopers Plains, N. Y.
Music Supervisor

KΑII ΜΣΧ

Band; Orchestra; Chorus; Y. W. C. A.

We are all glad to welcome Erma back, and proud, too, that she chose our class to graduate with. We are sure that success is meant for her. Why not, with those laughing blue eyes and a cheery smile for everyone?

FISK, CORTEZ
"CORT"

Wyalusing, Pa.
Group Four

Track (3) (4); Intramural Basketball; Y. M. C. A. (1); Wrestling (4).

Here is an unassuming youth from Wyalusing, who, though quiet at times, has made the Frat. jollier by his presence.

"Cort" is supreme on the cinders and can show ability on the mat, as well as on the basketball floor.

FLAHERTY, ANNE G.
"ANN"

Pittston, Pa.
Group Four

KΑII

German Club (2) (3) (4); Reporter to Flashlight (4); French Club (3) (4); Emersonian Literary Society (1); Hiking Club (2).

In Ann you see one of Ireland's most loyal daughters. Her eyes sparkle and laugh, and then a contagious grin takes possession of her face. But don't let the grin and fun mislead you, Ann secretes some very profound views of life, men and everyday tasks.

FREAR, EDGAR "EDDIE"

Montrose, Pa.
Group Four

Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Emersonian Literary Society (2) (4), President (3); Treasurer Class (1), Vice President (2); "M" Club (2) (3) (4); Manager Basketball (2); Flashlight Board (3); Student Council (3), President (4).

Needless to say "Eddie" holds the friendship of everyone. A jovial sense of humor seasoned by subtle sarcasm and sugar-coated by smooth placidity serve to make him a well rounded individual.

FRENCH, AMY "FRENCHY"

Millerton, Pa.
Group Four

KΔΠ

German Club; French Club.

If you see a streak of Knowledge in the sky,
You'll know that it is Amy passing by.

Do you know her giggle? Whatever she does or wherever she goes, her giggle goes with her. Peppy and gay and always willing to help someone is Amy.

GARDNER, ALICE E.
"AL"

Meshoppen, Pa.

Who is this slender, brown-haired lassie
With the merry twinkling eyes?
She's been toiling, sharing, climbing upward.
Cooking food and making friends
'Til she's now a fine "Home Eccer."
Who pleasure, toil and friendship blends.
We're speaking of "Alice Gardner", Folks!

GEHRON, FLORENCE M.
"FLOSSIE"

Floss has made many friends whom she won't find hard to keep, because she is a witty, cheerful, and serious person all in one. The longer we know her the more we find out what we have missed by not meeting her sooner.

GILBERT, MARY LOUISE

Millersburg, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Chorus; Band (3) (4); Orchestra (2) (3) (4);
Athletic Club (4).

When it comes to playing the piano or working out harmony—"Chic" is right there—always willing, always efficient. Of course she likes her good times, and has lots of them. However, she can settle down and be serious at the proper time. Her friendly attitude and sweet personality make her a friend to be desired.

GILCHRIST, MARGARET "PEGGY"

Lake Como, Pa.
Group Four

KΔII

Peggy has taken a prominent place in school life at Mansfield. As student council member, she was efficient; as a member of the Dramatic Club, she was effective; and as one of the Kappa Delta Pi, her scholarship was proved satisfactorily.

We feel assured of her success.

GIRTON, MARTHA J.

Berwick, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A.; Band; Orchestra; Glee Club.

Sunny, cultured, and refined is Martha. A truer and more trustworthy friend seldom is found. These qualities make her an ideal classmate. Surely she will be rewarded for her faithfulness and high scholastic standing.

GLEOKLER, DOLLY
"DOLLY"

Canton, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Chorus; Athletic Club (4); Student Council (2) (3) (4); Band (2) (4).

"Talents come in ones
But Dolly's come in twos."

When an accomplished young lady grips a baton with determination, it is needless to say everyone will sing at his best. Then, it must be admitted, attractiveness always serves as an initiative. A charming personality is Dolly's outstanding characteristic.

GLOVER, EDWIN "ED"

Knoxville, Pa.
Group Four

"This above all else to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

In the short time he has been here at Mansfield, he has made himself a part of the school.

GRANT, ROBERT C.
"BOB"

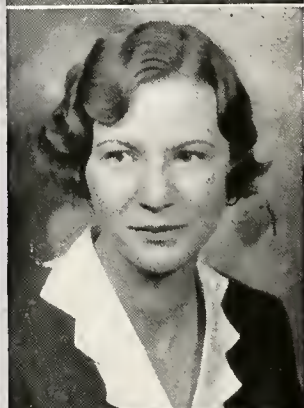

Mansfield, Pa.
Music Supervisor

BBB

Band; Orchestra; Chorus; Vested Choir; Music Supervisors' Club; Red and Blacks; Pedagogues; Y. M. C. A.; Treasurer Class '26. '27.

Bob is a "regular fellow" and the possessor of a charming personality.

Everyone will agree that he is our outstanding clarinet player, the mainstay of the band and orchestra, and that Bob's place in the school will be exceedingly hard to fill.

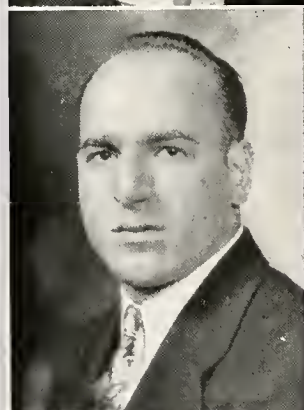

GILES, MARY F.
"GILES"

Lawrenceville, Pa.
Group Four

Y. W. C. A.; Hiking Club; Athletic Club; S P. Q. R.

Nature has erred here for we have that unusual combination of beauty, efficiency, and ability. This, together with sincerity, willingness, and humor make Mary one of our most cheerful classmates.

GULLO, YATSI I.
"MUZZY"

Rankin, Pa.
Group Four

Football (3) (4); Wrestling Coach (3) (4); Business Manager Carontawan; "M" Club (3) (4); Y. M. C. A.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating."

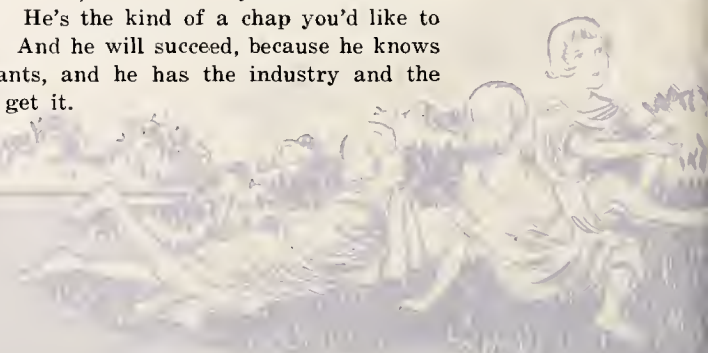

The proof in this case has come in good measure—a dynamo, a spirit undaunted by obstacles, a large heart, an open mind, a friendly manner. Alfred's loss is Mansfield's gain.

GUY, PHILIP
"PHIL"

Williamsport, Pa.
Group Four

You'd like Phil, if it were only for the fact that he's sincere. He's the kind of a chap you'd like to see succeed. And he will succeed, because he knows what he wants, and he has the industry and the ambition to get it.

HAGER, GENEVIEVE
"GEN"

Mansfield, Pa.
Home Economics

OF II

Domicilian Club; Y. W. C. A.

Was it by design or mere coincidence that "Gen" selected the Home Economics Course? Nevertheless, she has not only the qualities required to make her an efficient student but to win for her the admiration and appreciation of all her teachers and classmates.

HARTMAN, CHARLES "CHUCK"

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Rurban Club (1); "M" Club (1) (2) (3) (4), President (3); Baseball (2) (3) (4); Football (1) (2) (3), Captain (4); Basketball (3).

ΦΣΠ

Y. M. C. A.; Soccer.

Behind that lackadaisical manner lies ambition, ability, an indomitable will, and a dynamic personality, which keeps old friends and ever gains new ones. Although he never loses a chance for a good time, business and sports are the two predominate interests of his life.

HASKELL, GRACE

Knoxville, Pa.
Group Four

"Have you found your life distasteful?
My life did, and does, smack sweet.
Was your youth of pleasure wasteful?
Mine I saved and hold complete.
Do your joys with age, diminish?
When mine fail me, I'll complain.
Must in death your daylight finish?
My sun sets to rise again."

LANE, CLIFFORD

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Four

He has the markings of the good student—he's quiet, thoughtful, and sincere. With these characteristics he succeeded in the class-room; with these same characteristics he cannot help but succeed in whatever else he may attempt.

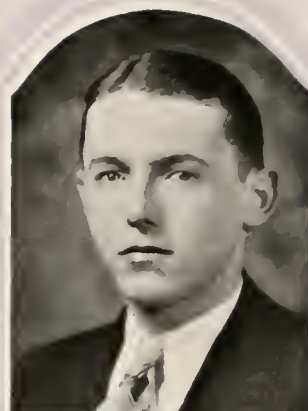

OTTO, FRANK T.
"FRANKIE"

Sayre, Pa.
Group Four

Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (4); Emersonian Literary Society (2) (4); Rurban Club (2); Assistant Manager Football (2); Orpheus Glee Club (1); Chorus (2); Second Band (2) (4); Second Orchestra (4); Opera (1).

Frank makes up for his possible lack in stature by his willingness to be of service whenever a bit of help is needed.

If it is true that ambition is a grievous fault then faulty indeed is Otto. We do not wish you luck—it's too fickle, and you'll be successful without our wishes, so, "So long".

PARKE, GILBERT
"PARKIE"

Waynesburg, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Y. M. C. A.; Chorus; Orchestra; Opera (1) (4); Football (4); College Quartette; Tennis (3) (4).

Parkie is one of the big and most likeable fellows in the class. He always wears a smile and never seems to worry about the high cost of living or even classes. It's hard to say which Parkie likes best—dance, women, or song. He's good at all.

WARREN, DOROTHY

Canton, Pa.
Music Supervisor

ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A.; Symphony Orchestra.

Dot came back for her degree, and we are all glad she picked this year to come. As she lived down town, too few of us know her well. She is "always there" in classes and always on the job when there is something to be done. Yet, those who know her well can say she is fun loving, ready to have a good time, and most conscientious.

WINNER, EDITH "EDE"

Calvert, Pa.
Group Four

Athletic Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Glee Club (1); French Club (3) (4).

"Ede" is an attractive girl, first you see her golden wavy hair and later when you know her better you notice her sweet, demure personality. "Ede" certainly can dance, and to be a good sport is her chief aim.

BAUMUNK, ROEBERTA G.
"BERTA"

Fredonia, N. Y.
Home Economics

ΟΓΠ

Domicilian Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Athletic Club (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (4); Art Club (1) (2) (3).

"Berta" with her sweet personality has made many lasting friendships. She has also been prominent in athletic events. If you see a flash of dark curly hair and deep blue eyes on the basketball court or hockey field, you can be sure it's "Berta".

Groups I and II

ANTISDEL, DORIS
"DOT"

West Warren, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2).

"Dot" is the best all around girl you can find. You should see her play hockey and baseball, to say nothing of driving her Ford. Jolly, staunch, and willing are the best things we can say about her. A little girl with a big heart.

BACHMAN, RUTH
"RUTHIE"

Williamsport, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Hiking Club.

A twinkling eye, a laugh, a shout,
Is proof that Ruthie is about.
A merry pal, a helpful friend,
She's one on whom you can depend.
Hard to look at?—Not a bit
And persevering—won't say quit.
Here's success to you, Ruthie.

BAER, BESSIE B.
"BAER" "BART"

Shickshinny, Pa.
Group Two

Y.W.C.A.; Athletic Club.

Although she's not one of the renowned "Three Bears" this "Baer" is well known to us in Mansfield for her dry good humor, unending resources for foolishness, and sincere friendship.

If you are searching for a really true friend then Bessie is your "Best Bet"!

BARNES, REGINA
"GENE"

Wyalusing, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club (1) (2).

"Gene" is a good student, a conscientious worker, and above all a true friend. Her winning smile her lovable ways, and her willingness to help make us grateful to have been included in her circle of friends.

BALLARD, MARIAN "PUSSY"

Troy, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Our Pussy with her well-rounded personality makes joy for everyone. She is a good friend and a wonderful pal. She is always ready for a lark, and feeds are her suppressed desire at all times. She appears to be very quiet and reserved but underneath—well, you'd be surprised!

BENSON, ESTHER HELEN "EST"

Rutland, Pa.
Group Two

Silence is often sweeter than speech. In this case it surely is true. One would never know Esther to be her real self if she spoke very much.

Esther has no need to talk very much. True worth is in doing, not speaking. Her deeds have always been enough.

BEST, HELEN "BESTY"

Williamsport, Pa.
Group Two

Hiking Club; Ganonkwennon (2); Athletic Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2).

Helen is the "Best" girl in school. You may not know her, but Helen's sweet personality has endeared her to those who do. Can she wield a hockey stick or swing a baseball bat? I'll say she can. Don't you see her "M"? If you ever want a true friend, Helen is one, and one worth having.

BOHLAYER, DOROTHY "DOFFY"

Troy, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Dimples galore, big blue eyes, black curly hair and gay giggles. Guess who? Why our Doffy, of course. Dorothy hails from Troy and what a gem. A wholesome good natured "kiddo" who makes everyone about her just burst into song. A sunbeam? You bet.

Thanks, Troy, she's O. K.

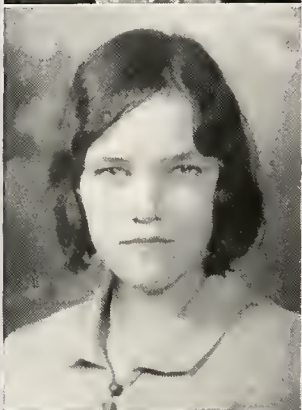

BOSTWICK, MYRTLE C.

Wellsboro, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club; Rurban Club.

"That Spirit looks for beauty, but in vain
Which is not by an inner beauty blest,
And, as the ebbing ocean on the beach
Leaves but a trace of evenescent foam,
So beauty passes, ever out of reach,
Save to the hearts where happiness is home."

BRAINARD, LAURA "LUCY"

Warren Center, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Hockey; Baseball.

Who is this maid so full of fun,
Out for a good time when lessons are done?
She enters sports with plenty of pep—
And can she play—well you bet.
With pretty dark hair and a merry smile,
In her we've found a friend worth while.

BRAINARD, MARGARET "MARG"

Warren Center, Pa.
Group Two

*Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Hockey; Baseball.
(1); Athletic Club; (1) (2).*

Marg has that ambition, capability, and supply of ideas so necessary to a good teacher. Of course she is quiet and studious but that doesn't preclude a real streak of athletic ability. She may be little but just the same she can play hockey and baseball.

BRELSFORD, ALTHEA
"AL"

Lycoming, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Rurban Club.

"He saw her charming, but he saw not half
The charms her downcast modesty conceal'd."
How could one person be so sweet, attractive, and studious, and remain so modest? This is what Althea has done.

BROWN, MARGARET "PEGGY"

Mehoopany, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.

M—magnetic personality.
A—always happy.
R—ready to do her best.
G—gracious.
A—amiable, and ambitious.
R—reserved.
E—ever helpful.
T—trustworthy. . . That's Peg.

BURR, MARY "JUDD"

Blossburg, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club.

Mary—the most studious girl in the day-room. What? Never let it be said that Mary isn't serious about her work, but really one shouldn't let work interfere with pleasure. Cheerful and happy-go-lucky, Mary kept the day-room smiling.

BUTZ, ELOISE
"BUTZ"

Coudersport, Pa.
Group One

Hiking; Student Council; Music Supervisors' Club.

She's a practical joker to be sure,
For every trouble—a real cure.
As a leader supreme
Of our girls here—the cream.
Meet our friend, Eloise Butz.

CASWELL, RUTH "WART"

Scranton, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (2); Athletic Club (2); Hiking Club (1); Out Door Club (1).

"The only way to have a friend is to be one".
—Emerson.

Has anyone ever seen Ruth blue or downhearted and not ready to help the other fellow? She is a delightful combination of seriousness and jollity, and has she pep? When you see her don't you wish you were starting in school again?

CHALLENGER, MARTHA "MARTY"

Factoryville, Pa.
Group One

Athletic Club (1) (2); Hockey Team (1) (2).

Factoryville is the home of this happy-go-lucky, clever, and artistic girl. Martha is always cheerful and witty. Through her pleasing personality we have found her to be a "True Blue" friend.

CHIAPELLI, BLANCHE

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Captain Baseball Team; Hockey (2).

Blanche displays a dual personality. Her serious attitude toward studies reveals a clever, brilliant mind, but, underneath—mischievous giggles and original jokes lurk and burst forth at unexpected moments, especially when she pulls her pranks on someone.

COLE, MARY "COLEY"

Ralston, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Art Club; Tribunal.

Mary is one of these creatures who possesses that desirable indefinable "certain something", commonly termed "It". Anyway, it's positively uncanny the way she intrigues the male of the species.

A true pal, a jolly companion, a fine student, and modern to her finger-tips—That's Mary.

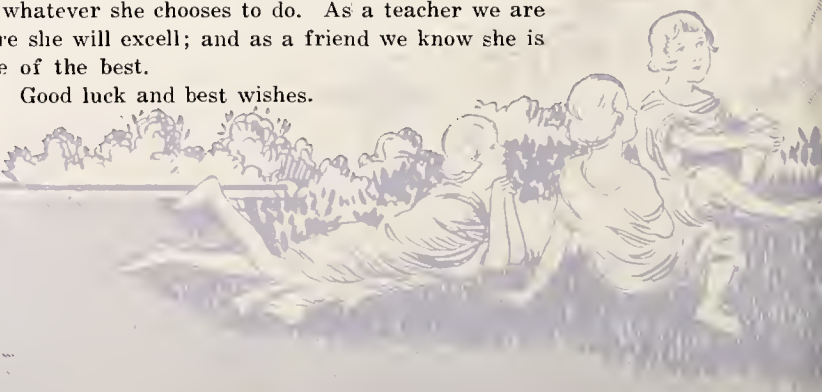

COLGROVE, ANNA
"ANN"

Tioga, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

We have no doubt that Anna will be successful in whatever she chooses to do. As a teacher we are sure she will excel; and as a friend we know she is one of the best.

Good luck and best wishes.

COOK, MARY THERESA
"COOKIE"

Dushore, Pa.
Group One

Eat, drink, and be merry,
For tomorrow I diet.

That alone tells you that Mary is jolly and fun-loving. And if you know her, you won't have to be told that she is a friend who is true.

Good luck and best wishes, Mary.

COOMBS, ELIZA
"BETS"

Taylor, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (2); Athletic Club (1).

Eliza has two characteristics that will make us remember her long after others are forgotten. The first of these is her determination and ability to get things done,—quickly and efficiently. And the last is this,—she knows how to laugh. Her jolly genuine laughter has won her many friends; her sincerity has kept them.

CROCKENBERG, MIGNON R.
"MIN"

Honesdale, Pa.
Group Two

Hiking Club; Athletic Club (1) (2); Hockey (1) (2); Baseball (1); Treasurer Ganonkwenon Club (2).

"Min" plays the game of life just as she plays all other games, conscientiously and fairly. She certainly knows how to make the "A's". Studying isn't all she can do for she is always in the fun, whether it's a game of hockey or baseball, a feed, or what have you.

Good luck, "Min".

DAVIS, MARY ALICE "BUSTER"

Williamsport, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A.; Hockey; Baseball; Hiking Club (1); Ganonkwenon (2); Tribunal.

"I must be cruel only to be kind" (to Sophomores).

At the beginning of her Sophomore year, Mary Alice became quite popular with the Freshmen. You see Mary was a member of the Tribunal. Nevertheless, when you are sad, drop in her room and when you leave you will be seeing the world through rose-colored glasses.

DRAKE, LINA "DUCKIE"

Shinglehouse, Pa.
Group One

We are happy even to have known "Duckie", but we are happier to have had her as a companion. Her delightful disposition, her keen sense of humor, and her steadfast loyalty to her friends, make us want to keep her as a friend always.

EDWARDS, ANGELINE

Harrison Valley, Pa.
Group Two

Hiking Club; Outdoor Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Rurban Club.

Angeline Edwards, as I have been told,
Has a heart made of purest gold;
She's out for fun
And she finds it, too;
If we were all like her, we'd never be blue.

EILENBERGER, MILDRED
"MILLY"

Gouldsboro, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Milly! Who can adequately describe Milly? She has more sides to her character than a polygon. Mansfield got a lucky break when Milly decided to annex an alma mater.

She is a good sport, a true pal, a regular girl, radiating her "personality plus" in all directions.

ESTES, HOWARD TAFT "PETE"

Coudersport, Pa.
Group Two

Y. M. C. A.; "M" Club; Football (2); Interclass Basketball (1).

Pete came to Mansfield as green as any other Frosh, but perhaps a little bolder. In a few short weeks he became famous with the women, and he won't tell us how it's done. We hate to see him leave with his many abilities, not the least of which is football.

FELIX, JUNE

Johnstown, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Emersonian Literary Society.

"My heart is ever at your service."

June, sweetly serious, is a girl whom everyone is glad to call "friend". She's happy, never sorry, and beams good will toward all with those enormous brown eyes of hers.

FRANZ, MILDRED D.

Corning, N. Y.
Group One

"TODE"

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

Tode never worries
She is always gay.
She wakes up mornings smiling
And stays that way all day.
Always fond of joking,
Good for loads of fun,
But when it comes to hustling
She does not chose to run.
But there's another side of her
That's very plain to see
And that is one wonderful personality.

FRITH, WILHELMINA

Galeton, Pa.
Group One

"BILLY"

Latin Club (1) (2); Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

Who's the tall, good-natured, blonde young lady who lived near the postoffice in North Hall? She always did her good turn daily and kept on smilin' no matter what. Yes, that's Billy, and we're glad to have her for a friend.

"A day for toil, an hour for sport,

But for a friend is life too short."—Emerson

GARDNER, DOROTHY

Westfield, Pa.
Group Two

"DOT"

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Basketball; Hockey; Tennis; Flashlight Board; Tribunal.

Black eyes that snap, adorable curly hair, dimples and a smile that just bubbles over. She is unbeatable in sports, a wonder for dancing, a wizard for wit—a regular girl. Her literary achievements are fine, too; you should read some of her poems.

GEE, HELEN D.

Wellsboro, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club; Rurban Club.

True dignity abides with him alone
Who, in the silent hour of inward thought,
Can still suspect, and still revere himself,
In lowliness of heart.

—Wordsworth.

GLEASON, GEORGIA
"GEORGE"

Coudersport, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Latin Club.

Tom Thumb's twin sister is our "George". It would give Mendell a headache to explain how so much of prettiness, sweetness, common sense, vivacity and intelligence could possibly be packed in such a tiny package. Brown hair, twinkling hazel eyes in the quaintest little face, the friendliest smile, winning way—everything about her is just another reason for loving her.

GRANGER, LILLIAN "BLONDIE"

Galeton, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Hockey; Class Basketball; Athletic Club.

It did not take "Blondie" long to become one of the most popular girls in M. S. T. C.,—and the way she can dance, and play basketball and tennis assures us that she will be popular anywhere.

GRIFFING, A. LOUISE

Heart Lake, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.; Second Orchestra; Outdoor Club.

"There is no treasure which may be compared with a faithful friend."

Ada Louise is one of those people who can always be depended upon. She is industrious, ambitious and sincere in all she does. Although quiet, when you really get to know her she is a good, true friend.

GRIFFIN, EVELYN M.

Susquehanna, Pa.

Group Two

Athletic Club (1) (2) (3).

Everything she does with a will
And pleasantly, besides;
An honored place, we know she'll fill,
As to the front she strides.
Would you meet a sturdy lass
Serene, gifted, kind and true?
To know her you'd be just as glad
As we who claim her in our crew.

HATHIERILL, JEANNETTE

Wellsboro, Pa.

"NETTIE"

Group One

Y. W. C. A.; Rural Club.

Sometimes we wonder if "Nettie" always possesses that quietness and reserve.

Nettie is one of those who can climb the path to knowledge with a quiet and sweet dignity. Who ever heard her storm or fret about her classes? Perhaps she acquired her even temperament during her teaching. Jeannette, you have our best wishes.

HAZENSKI, VICTORIA L.

Duryea, Pa.

"VIC"

Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

The sad tires in a mile."

A merry heart goes all the day,

How can we ever forget her sparkling eyes, and magnetic smile which reveals rows of pearly teeth? As to sports, she can't be beaten.

HEISE, LEACHA

Galeton, Pa.

"SLIM"

Group Two

Athletic Club; Hiking Club; Y. W. C. A.

L—oquacious

E—ntertaining

A—micable

C—lever

H—appy-go-lucky.

A—all the sweetest qualities go to make up this tall, blond maiden. She hasn't a care in the world except sleep, eat and mail, but you should see her rushing to the aid of the occasional despairing, melancholy students with the most delightful wit that would make Job leave off his lamenting.

WELLIVER, CAROLYN R.
"LYNN"

Williamsport, Pa.
Music Supervisor

KΑΠ ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Y. W. Play (3) (4); Chorus; Band.

This girlie—oh how she fools you! She laughs, she giggles, and how she can tease, but there's a time for everything and she can be serious too. An "A-1" listener, full of fun, music, rhythm, and personality.

WENDLE, MARY R.
"BECKY"

Williamsport, Pa.
Music Supervisor

KΑΠ ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A.; Orchestra; Band; Chorus.

Do you really know what goes on within this being? It's quite an impenetrable mystery, isn't it? There is secrecy; and yet not solitude. "Becky's" real self is revealed through her clever philosophies of this superficial world.

Mount high, "Becky".

WHEELER, GLADYS "GLAD"

Clarks Summit, Pa.
Music Supervisor

KΑΠ ΜΣΧ

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Chorus (1) (2) (3); Vested Choir (4); Second Band; Second Orchestra.

A quiet, dignified, little blonde, that's your first impression, but as soon as you know her you forget that first impression. Is she quiet? Is she dignified? Well not so much that she bores you! Quite the contrary, everyone will agree.

WILKINSON, RALPH "WILKIE"

Charleston, Pa.
Group Four

"M" Club; Y. M. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Class Vice President (3); Baseball (3) (4).

Ralph is Charleston's contribution to South Hall. This "Auburn-haired" youth knows how to dress, how to dance and we'll add, knows his "wimmin", "math", and tennis. "Wilkie" is a real fellow.

ISBAN, HELEN

Blossburg, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club.

"To succeed, work", has been Helen's motto through her school career. "Gracious" and "charming" define her nature.

"Her beauty of kind—her virtues from above. Happy is he that can obtain her love."

Another of the day-room gang. We wish her luck.

JAMES, ALICE

Taylor, Pa.
Group One

"PAT"

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Did you see Alice in "Inlaws and Outlaws"? Well, that really is Alice. Of all the girls we know, she's the best fitted to play the role of heroine in real life. She's the kind of girl that superlatives were made for. What more can we say, after we've said we love her?

JENKINS, REBECCA

Taylor, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

It's silly to try to sketch Rebecca's personality in such a short space. We'll tell you only that thing she loves best—her music. To realize the elevating effect of music, you have only to hear her play a Beethoven Sonata, or Chopin's Prelude. Then you'd appreciate music, and you'd know Rebecca.

JOHNSON, PAULINE

Wellsboro, Pa.
Group One

"POLLY"

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Hiking Club.

Here's to Pauline with a heart and smile
That make the bubble of life worth while.

Her gaiety is charming. Her wit never ending.

Pauline is one to be counted on in planning a good time, or a hard time. You can't drive her away when refreshments are on the program. All in all she's a friend to be prized.

JONES, MARGARET "JONESY"

Taylor, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Jonesy is a sweet, lovable, and conscientious little busybody. A girl who has a streak of gaiety and a fun loving nature beneath her quiet smile. A girl who can be both thoughtful and gay—as "Peg" can—deserves the popularity "Peg" enjoys.

KEATING, DOROTHY S.
"DOT"

Kingston, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.; Dramatic Club; Athletic Club.

If America's aristocracy really is one of beauty and brains, then "Dot" is our Princess. She has the poise of the true aristocrat—she's slender, and she's graceful; she's clever and she's true. And, as the prerogative of a princess, she demands and receives our love and admiration.

KELLEY, ELEANOR "KELLEY"

Troy, Pa.
Group Two

She is not big, she is not tall
But she is sweet and kind to all.
She wears a smile, has a fine disposition
In life that is sure to gain a position.
She's never downhearted, she's never blue,
To her classmates and friends, she's always true.

LA FRANCE, HARRIET
"FRENCHY"

Meshoppen, Pa.
Group Two

Hiking Club; Rurban Club; Art Club.

To look at her one would think that she is always quiet and studious. First impressions are usually lasting, but here is an exception. Whenever a good time is at hand, Harriet is at hand too. Although her main interest seems to be in "Art" we know she will make a success in other things as well.

LEIBY, DOROTHY
"DOT"

Covington, Pa.
Group Two

Dorothy—quiet, sober, conscientiously industrious, yet dryly humorous—a cure for the blues around the day-room. Her understanding and sympathetic nature makes her beloved by all her classmates. But we wonder just how seriously "Dot" will settle down to a teaching career.

LLEWLYN, JANE
"SALLY"

Eldred, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.

"You share our pleasures, or our pains,
Your sympathy is real.
You never ask us to explain;
You know the things we feel.
You know the thoughts we'd like to say,
The things we try to do.
It surely was our lucky day
When we found a friend like you."

LUTES, VIVIAN K.
"VIV"

Tunkhannock, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.

With her petite, lithesome figure and pleasing personality she has won many friends. We wonder—will she be a success? Why mention it? The teaching profession needs more just like her.

MCALLISTER, RUTH C.

Colegrove, Pa.
Group One

Did you ever see Ruth when she wasn't working? But then, her efforts haven't been in vain, for she has succeeded nobly in her teaching and work here at M. S. T. C. We know she will always be successful.

McCLAIN, MARTHA "MART"

Hughesville, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Rurban Club.

Tall, dark hair, blue eyes, and a charming smile. a regular Irish combination! Though she is always smiling we know she can be serious sometimes. Her pleasing personality gives her many friends whom she loves to keep guessing.

McHALE, ANNA MAE
"MACK"

Duryea, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club, Y. W. C. A.

A cheery, happy pal is Anna, always ready for a good time. When in distress just call on her and she will make you forget your troubles. With her cheerful disposition and friendly ways, any suggestion that promises a good time has Mack's whole support, and once accepted no one enjoys herself more than she.

MILLER, ERMA A.

Galeton, Pa.
Group Two.

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.; Basketball; Hockey.

We will always remember Erma of the first floor gang for her athletic ability and her big smile for everyone. She is always ready for dancing, swimming, basketball, and any other sport that you have.

Erma's big heart and ready smile bring her friends of both sexes.

MITCHELL, LOUISE
"LOUISE"

Tioga, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club.

Quiet, calm, never ruffled or perturbed, solving all her problems with a persevering and sagacious attitude, Louise won her way into the hearts of her fellow students—especially those of the "day-room gang". Louise commuted faithfully and was always around when any fun was going on.

MURPHY, ALICE "AL"

Dushore, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.; Art Club; French Club; Athletic Club.

Did you ever hear "Al" relate her experiences abroad? If not look her up immediately.

"Her true worth is being, not seeming,

In doing each day that goes by—

Some little good—not in dreaming

Of great things to do by and by."

MURPHY, LUCILLE "MURPH"

Susquehanna, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Second Orchestra.

"Murph" is her nickname—talking undoubtedly of her fame. In blue eyed "Lou" we have a million dollar personality. She lives up to her "Irish", by her exceptionally pure wit. Smiling, cheerful, vivacious—that's "Lou". She has won the hearts of North and South Halls by her kindness and her rare talent in dancing.

O'DONNELL, GRACE "SKIPPER"

Avoca, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club (1) (2).

Here we have the ideal combination. Grace is not only conscientious where her work is concerned, but she is always ready for a good time. Her laugh is contagious. Ask anyone who knows her. Our guess is that she makes an exceptionally fine teacher. We envy her pupils.

ORMSBY, FRANCES "FRITZ"

Elkland, Pa.
Group One

Athletic Club; Orchestra.

She's tiny and cute—a perfect whirlwind of vitality. She's past master of the art of dancing (knows all the intricate steps); she's a "WOW" of a hockey player, and she's just bubbling over with enthusiasm for the teaching profession.

"Fritz", strictly modern, is the type that puts all she has into her work and comes out on top.

PALMER, ROSE "ROSIE"

Canton, Pa.
Group Two

Hiking Club; Y. W. C. A.

Light hair, blue eyes, some boy's Paradise. We are sure Rose will be a good teacher. If she can't get a school there are at least two other occupations which she can follow. She is a good hair dresser and, too, she'd make an ideal housewife.

PAONE, FLORENCE
"PAONE"

Carbondale, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Did you say Nonchalant? That's Florence—a good sport ready for work, fun, or frolic. Her weakness takes the shape of a sundae with whipped cream. She holds any audience spellbound when singing, "I'm Going to Dance Wit the Guy Wot Brung Me."

How invaluable is the calmness with which Florence accepts the tasks before her!

PARANA, MARY I.
"MERKO"

Throop, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Outdoor Club; Ganonkwenon Club.

A peek behind the curtain of "Merks" personality:

Modest—Quite.
Industrious—Oh my, yes.
Persevering—Very much so.
Loyal—To the n'th degree.
Herself at all times.
Enough.

PARKER, ADRIENNE
"A"

Galeton, Pa.
Group Two

Latin Club; Y. W. C. A.; Rurban Club.

Big, impish, brown eyes; golden hair; a smile that does things; excellent in her studies; fascinating in drama;—a "boom" at everything she attempts; pretty, vivacious, witty, popular, clever. Adrienne is indefinately different, but we love her just that way.

PARKER, NORA "NONIE"

Galeton, Pa.
Group Two

Latin Club; Rurban Club; Y. W. C. A.

Solemn, big, hazel eyes; chestnut brown hair; serious mouth—a bundle of industriousness, conscientiousness, worries sometimes. But when she lays them aside and smiles, it's like sunshine. She's pretty, peppy, jolly, friendly, and true blue all the way through.

PATTON, LORETTA
"PAT"

Noxen, Pa.
Group Two

Pat has a good sense of humor, a sweet smile, a willingness to help others at any time, and among many other things, a considerable amount of patience.

We hope that she will like teaching, but if she doesn't she surely will make a good carpenter!

PECOLA, HELEN "PECOLA"

Moscow, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Athletic Club (1) (2).

Most gentlemen prefer blondes—at least a certain young man from Stroudsburg does. If you want to lose your blues, just spend a few moments with this fair young maiden. Her wit and humor have caused many an uproar after ten o'clock when silence should have reigned supreme. It is true that "to know her is to love her", and we know her well.

PETTIT, FLORENCE
"FLOSSIE"

Hallstead, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2).

A good student, a real friend, jolly, peppy and once a maid of honor 'tis true. Yes, and she even caught the bride's bouquet. We wish you the best of luck, Flossie, but don't decide too suddenly. Your teaching will be a success, we know.

REAP, MARY "REAPIE"

Jessup, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Did you ever see "Reapie" do the Charleston? If not you've missed it. Though serious about her ideals in life, she possesses a bubbling fund of wit and wholesome mischievousness—what might be called an Irish touch. Must we say that her versatility and humor have captivated hearts in North and South Halls?

READMAN, RUTH
"RUTHIE"

Sayre, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club (2); Art Club; Basketball; Rural Club; Y. W. C. A.

"She is honest, frank, natural; ready to say 'I do not know', if so it be; to face any obstacle and meet every difficulty unabashed and unafraid." —Elbert Hubbard.

Possessing these traits, Ruth gains many friends. She is industrious and always willing to help.

RAPELLA, CATHERINE C.
"KAY"

Susquehanna, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club (1) (2).

You're sure to hear much of her deeds,
This worker, true and steady;
For everything that attention needs,
Our "Kay" is ever ready.
She's quiet and industrious.
She sticks to every task,
And makes herself illustrious
In everything you ask.

REXFORD, KATHRYN
"KATE"

Westfield, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.

"Pretty and neat,
Witty and sweet."

"Kate's" music can charm any savage beast. She's one of these popular girls who has every favorite ballad at her fingers' ends.

Her big blue eyes have caused many a heart-flutter. She's the essence of beauty, brains, sweetness, and dignity all rolled up into one alluring little person.

RITZ, LAURA

"RITZ"

Ralston, Pa.

Group One

Y. W. C. A. Music Supervisors' Club; Bulletin Board.

Brown hair and laughing eyes—that's Ritz. Wherever she goes she makes people happy. There is no end to fun when she and Butz get together. With all her fun she can also be serious, especially at examination time.

RUSS, DOROTHY

"DOT"

Moosic, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (2); Baseball (1); Athletic Club (1) (2).

This is our "Dot" who, for two short years
Has been a friend quite cheery,
When she's around we're never sad
And never a moment dreary.
For her heart is always happy,
Her spirit, always gay.
She has a smile for all
That meet her on the way.

SCHAEFER, JULIA

"JULE"

Jersey Shore, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Athletic Club.

Have you known someone who has been sincere and true, helpful and dependable, lovable and gay? If you have, then you must know why we say that Jule, who is all of that, will carry away with her the love and best wishes of a host of friends.

SCHLETTERER, LOUISE

"LOU"

Galeton, Pa.

Group One

Athletic Club.

She is very neat and always jolly
All those who know her see no folly.
Her hair is black, her eyes, dark brown;
There's none better to be found.

SCOTT, MILDRED

"SCOTTY"

Moosic, Pa.

Group Two

Athletic Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Outdoor Club (1); Ganonkwenon (2).

The zest of happiness seems to radiate from our "Scotty's" blonde hair and sparkling blue eyes. She has a charming personality, and is loved by all who know her. She is first to cheer you on success and last to leave you in distress. She is one of the dearest and most lovable of pals.

SIOCK, ANNA M.

"SHUCKS"

Throop, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Ganonkwenon; Outdoor Club.

Blue? Run along to see her.

Step in and join in the outbursts of merry laughter from our one and only —Anna.

Blue now?

I should say not!

SMITH, DOROTHY Z.

"DOT"

Corning, N. Y.

Group One

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

Full of pep; full of puns.

Always ready for her fun.

Here is a member of the Smith gang, the D. T. K's. She's rated high as having pep, a pleasing personality and a contagious laugh. A girl of many accomplishments she is good at art, dancing, talking, and most of all, sleeping. Ask anyone who tried to call her at 6:45 a. m.

SMITH, MILDRED

"MILLY"

Milan, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; French Club; Athletic Club.

Have you ever been the victim of one of Milly's practical jokes? It matters little whether you are a student or a clerk it's all the same to Milly. Can she laugh and make everyone laugh with her?

"Oh well, a thousand years from now who will know whether I did or did not attend class this morning", says she.

SPRINGSTEAD, RHEA
"REE"

Port Allegany, Pa.
Group Two

Art Club; Outdoor Club; Rurban Club; Y. W. C. A.

"The Mintage of Wisdom is to know that rest is rust, and that real life is in Love, Laughter, and Work."

Rhea has that enviable wealth of knowledge. Love?—Yes, she has a weakness for Mechanics Institute.

Laughter?—None are better natured.
Work?—She takes lessons seriously.

SPROUT, VIRGINIA
"JINNY"

Allentown, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

Sometimes mere words are superfluous and especially is this true when we try to describe Jinny. One of the dearest friends we've ever known, so kind, so sympathetic, so true. Besides all this, she is a brilliant student and a successful teacher. Can you imagine all this in one person? Well, it's all there in our Jinny.

SQUIER, MABEL

Nicholson, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Hiking Club; Rurban Club.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." Mabel has the power of making and keeping friends. She is good-natured, kind, thoughtful, and loyal, with many other good qualities. She seldom takes life seriously and is always ready for a good time.

STERLING, JULIA "JULE"

Canton, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Second Orchestra.

"De women does de talkin' an' de flyin'."

Julia is one whom we do not easily forget. Last year she was a down town student, and from all reports we can't understand why she is living in the dormitory this year.

Friendly, happy, jolly, and talkative, that's Julia.

STEVENS, ANNA

"ANN"

Wellsboro, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Rurban Club; Athletic Club.

True to her snappy, brown eyes, Ann is both full of fun and a good student. Only two faults blot her character and with great remorse we reveal them, i. e., giggling and teasing.

We will miss you next year, Ann.

STEVENS, MARY

Nicholson, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Hiking Club; Rurban Club.

If Mary ever once slipped from the straight and narrow path in her two years at Mansfield State, nobody has ever been able to discover it. It takes a long time to really learn to know Mary but those who have, have found in her a worthwhile friend.

STOWELL, DOROTHY E.

"DOT"

Great Bend, Pa.

Group One

Y. W. C. A.

This modest maiden is charming, with a dignified manner and winning ways. Quiet, a good student, beware—appearances are often deceiving. She never allows her fun to interfere with her work, however, she always finds time to be a loyal friend and an all around good sport.

TAGLIAFERRI, ROSE

"TAG"

Old Forge, Pa.

Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

Dark hair and eyes—and what eyes. She has the appearance of one being dignified and reserved, but just step into 451 some night and you will find her very peppy and entertaining. One real pal and a true Mansfield girl is Rose.

THOMAS, MARGARET A.
"PEG"

Old Forge, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Hiking Club (1); Athletic Club (2).

"Peg" may appear to be very quiet and demure, but she is really blessed with a keen sense of humor and is always ready for a good time—especially week-end "feeds". "Peg" can always find a few spare moments for study.

WHIPPLE, BEATRICE "BEA"

Wyalusing, Pa.
Group Two

"There are eyes half defiant,
Half meek and compliant;
Dark eyes, with a wondrous, witching charm
To bring us good or to work us harm.

Don't think for a moment that Bea is all eyes!
She also has a very pleasant smile and a charming sense of humor.

WHITNEY, BEATRICE "BEATIE"

Susquehanna, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.

Is Beatrice different? Well, I guess! So quiet, dignified, and refined—until you know her. Don't misunderstand! She doesn't lose those characteristics when you become acquainted with her, but you know—she doesn't reveal all of her traits to the casual observer. You never know what unexpected recess of her personality will next be disclosed.

WILSON, RICHARD L.
"DICK"

Mansfield, Pa.
Group Two

Rurban Club; Y. M. C. A.

What! You don't know Dick Wilson? That popular "local lad" who has tried every course in the school except Home Ec (and with an option on that for next year)? You've missed something in Mansfield if you haven't met Dick.

AUSTIN, BERTHA
"BIRD"

Leolyn, Pa.
Group Two.

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

"Play up, play up, and win the game."

On the basketball court, on the baseball diamond,
"Bird" is right there. She is a member of any team upon whom you can always rely. Besides these her cheerfulness and kindness have endeared her to those privileged to call her a friend.

BURGESS, ESTHER "ESS"

Forksville, Pa.
Group Two

A diligent worker,
Never a shirker.
Modest and shy is she,
But full of fun
When work is done.
For she's a great pal to me.

COLE, BERNICE "BERNIE"

Troy, Pa.
Group One

Small but mighty, a Trojan from Troy;
Bernie will never lack for friends,
And may she always enjoy
Her popularity and red head.

Because she lives down town we are not as well acquainted as we might wish. However, here's luck!

ENGLISH, RHODA "RHODA"

Morris, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

"Modest and Winsome, Grandly Shy."

That's Rhoda, our little friend. She is a studious and quiet person about school; but it takes all types to make a world. She's always there in the background when things look blackest. It's this kind of person we learn to love.

LANDON, MYRTLE L.

"HAPPY"

Canton, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Freshman Tea Committee; Hockey; Art Club.

"Precious things come in small packages." This adage fits our Myrtle exactly for;

She's little and lovable, loyal and true;

Has a laugh that's contagious,

A heart that's true blue.

Her sincerity wins her numberless friends,

Her sympathetic nature to all she extends.

Her musical instinct sought something nice.

You ask me what is it?—ask Johnnie's advice

MATTOON, ENOLA

"I would be a friend of all—the foe, the friendless;

I would be giving and forget the gift;

I would be humble, for I know my weakness;

I would look—and laugh—and love—and lift.

NICHOLS, BESS

Williamsport, Pa.

Group Two.

Not what you get, but what you give,

Not what you say, but how you live,

Giving the world the love it needs,

Living a life of noble deeds,

Not where you come, but whither bound,

Not what you have but whither found,

Strong for the right, the good, the true,

These are the things worth while to you.

PRICE, MARGARET

"MARG"

Susquehanna, Pa.

Group Two

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Ganonkwenon (1) (2).

Blithe and gay, and full of song

Happy as the day is long.

Marg with these endearing charms has won us all. Here's a friendship we certainly cherish.

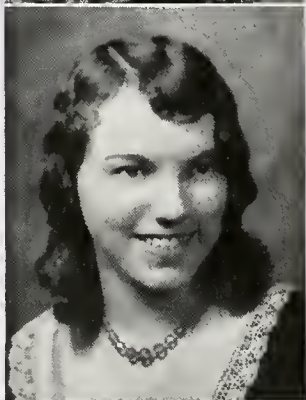

BAXTER, MARGARET
"PEG"

Troy, Pa.
Group Two

Athletic Club, Hockey Team.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you!".

An all around good sport is "Peg", even the victims of her pranks agree with us. A friend is she to all. Is she studious? Well, if there were more like her, there would be less failures.

SMITH, BERNICE
"B-E-N"
Y. W. C. A.

Susquehanna, Pa.
Group One

B—bright
E—energetic
R—romantic
N—neat
I—interesting
C—cute
E—ever the same

That's Bernice; an all around "Pal".

SUNDAY, STEPHEN "STEVE"

Shickshinny, Pa.
Group Two

"Play up, play fair, and play the game."

"Steve" combines a sunny good nature with a droll way of making quaint expressions. His million dollar grin and athletic ability have placed him as one of our most popular students.

TUTON, VIRGINIA
"GIN"

Gillette, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club.

"I love a lassie, a bonnie, bonnie lassie,
She's pure as the lily in the dell.
She's sweet as the heather,
The bonnie, bloomin' heather.
"Ginnie", ma Scotch Blue-bell."

—Lauder and Grafton.

VANHORN, DOROTHY
"DOT"

Troy, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.

A regular girl and the best of pals.
A right good friend through Life's many trials,
Happy, gay, and full of fun,
Summed up at the end,
This means just one;—"Dot."

WOODMANSEE, DORIS
"DOE"

Susquehanna, Pa.
Group One

Y. W. C. A.

Take one cup of friendship, one half cup of cheer, and two heaping tablespoons full of enthusiasm; mix well; add a pinch of vivacity and a dash of pep. Fold in one cupful of light, frothy humor. Top with dainty "blonde", "good looks", and gay giggles. The result? Just our—Doris.

WYNNE, MARY E.
"WINNIE"

Canton, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Art Club; Hockey; Tribunal.

A smile will go a long, long way
Mary, Acushla, Peg O' My Heart.
Comrade, pal and friend.
Fair lassie of dear old Ireland.
Eyes that dance and sparkle,
And they can darken, too.
And just for once you think they're black
And then—the smile breaks through,—that's Mary.

YOUNG, GERTRUDE "GERT"

Austin, Pa.
Group Two

Y. W. C. A.

"Life radiance from within must shine,
Its harmony express
The aspiration of the soul
The power to cheer and bless."
This paints our Gertrude. What more could we say?

BEAUMONT, ALICE M.

"BOBBIE"

Stevensville, Pa.

Group Two

Athletic Club; Y. W. C. A.

"Where are my lesson plans? And have I an observation sheet to write up tonight!" When you hear these exclamations, you may be sure that Alice is around. Even though she didn't major in science, she knows her "liquids". If you don't believe it, ask her. It will be a lucky school that gets you, Alice.

RYDER, DOROTHY

Lawrenceville, Pa.

"DOT"

Group Two

Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Club; Baseball.

She's neat and she's sweet,
And she just can't be beat.
She's not a flower,
She's not a pearl,
She's just and all around good girl.
That's our Dot.

KEIB, LOUISE

Genesee, Pa.

Group Two.

"The virtue of her lively looks
Excels the precious stone;
I wish to have none other books
To read or look upon."
Looking for a friend? This merry Miss, with her care-free, good-natured smile, you'll find, is just right.

SHIELDS, FLOSSIE

Shinglehouse, Pa.

Group Two.

"This is my creed: to do some good; to bear my ills without complaining; to seek no profits where I may, by winning them, bring grief to others; to do some service day by day in helping on my toiling brothers."

ELLSWORTH, LYNALLIS

Springboro, Pa.

"LIN"

Home Economics.

OF II

Emersonian Literary Society; Dramatic Club.

Lives of Home Ecs oft remind us
That we should strive to win,
And departing leave behind us,
As many friends as does our "Lin".

WILCOX, FERN

Granville Summit, Pa.

Group Two.

Reserved, though cheerful
And full of fun,
With a sparkling wit
That's not overdone.
You'll find a good teacher
We're sure in this one.

BISSELL, IDA

Hiawatha, Pa.

Group Two.

"If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in Vain."

—(Emily Dickinson.)

YAGLEE, IRENE

Scranton, Pa.

Group Two.

Jolly, full of fun, entertaining—that's Irene.
Her charming personality wins her many lasting friendships, and, as a classmate, she is loved by all. Aside from this, she is very studious and we know she will make a real success in teaching.

The Freshman Class

An act of the play entitled "The College Life of the Class of 1934" started out rather humorously for the audience, the upperclassmen, and most tragically for the players, the Freshmen. We came upon the stage, some hesitantly and others boldly, only to be greeted by an outburst of laughter and by the approbrious epithet "Frosh". We were a bit surprised because we had thought this a very important scene; but as we soon realized that the most serious plays need a touch of humor now and then, we decided to play our parts to the best of our ability.

We found the background and the stage equipment of our little scene to be very efficient and beautiful. The buildings and campus were all our hearts desired and it did not take us long to find out how lucky we were to have picked this setting for our little, yet important scene.

1st Row: Grinnell, Childs, Burnett, Knowlton, Meek, Bennett, Cohick, Lent, Brooks, Dix, Golden, Kissel, Fox, Alexis, Fleming.

After taking a few weeks to gain our mental poise and get over our stage fright, we began to enjoy our drama immensely. We soon found that our coaches, the teachers and instructors, understood our roles and were a great help and inspiration to us. Then we started playing up to our audience and found they really weren't laughing at us but with us.

And so at the end of this year, 1930-1931, we have decided that our first scene has been very successfully completed. We feel that we are really a part of a great play and we are going to do our best to make our small act one of the very best acts in this great drama, "The Play of Life".

The Sophomore Class

The second year—the same class yet a changed one; not that group of proverbially “green” Freshmen who came, and saw—but did not conquer; true, they successfully won one battle which, important as it seemed a year back, was but an item in the great campaign for a degree. No,—not that group but one more seasoned by time—one that has fought and won another battle; so we have achieved half the victory with our forces still intact—strong and eager for the third great meet—our Junior year.

But we must be more explicit as to this “Sophomoric” attainment—for it was the result of an illustrious battle—each small event a success in itself.

We have aimed to not only promote class activity, but likewise school activity—and to promote these, every Sophomore has given of his own talents, and shared them with his classmen. We have aimed to develop a finer spirit of fellowship, scholarship and mental wholesomeness, which will make for us a more distinct path to follow.

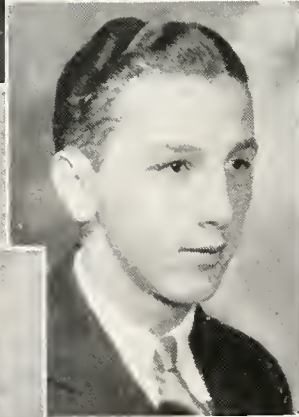

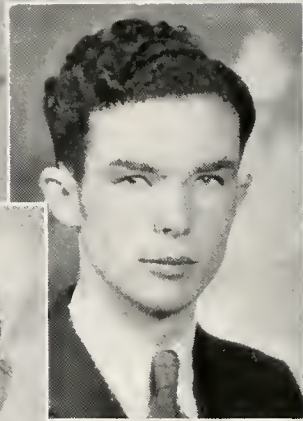

All Sophomores have patriotically responded to the call for the higher mental and moral standards demanded by the new fraternal organizations. We have felt it a duty to climb to our highest level—to make ourselves worthy of their membership in the coming Junior year.

In so far as extra curricular activities are concerned, no small number of Sophomores served as members of societies, clubs and teams—on boards, committees and official staffs. Socially, too, the Sophomore co-eds and collegians are well known for what they add to the “Gym” dances, the dramatic performances and entertainments—in general, “life on the campus.

Of course, we first chose our Commandant-in-Chief and his staff of sub-officers who have directed and led us in this mighty encounter. Then, too, we gave our best to our Alma Mater in football, basketball, music, and other activities. However, in our ranks we have aimed for a higher educational mark, and have achieved, in turn, not only that mark—but a new one—a standard for those who follow. We have sharpened our weapons of thought and initiative by meeting with new ideas, experiences, and situations. At times, we were hard pressed and puzzled, but each time we came through with colors flying. A few individuals have not done this, but the whole class, each and every one, has cooperated and worked shoulder to shoulder—not only to win but to conquer.

Then came a time when we felt the need of diversion from that dogged educational effort and found that diversion in the traditional Sophomore Hop. The dance is, indeed, traditional but the success of this one was not—it was unprecedented.

The enumeration of all these “Sophomoric” attainments—scholastic, athletic and social,—explains why the battle’s done and won. Therefore, because we possess courage, confidence, determination, ability, respect for our faculty, sincere esteem for Seniors, affection for Juniors, and a consideration for our Freshmen, we, the class of ’33, consider ourselves worthy of mention in this publication.

The Junior Class

When the Class of '32 first appeared on the campus of Mansfield State in the fall of '28, it was not especially conspicuous except for the unmistakable tint of "greenness" which characterizes every incoming Freshman class. This class, however, soon made its presence felt in many ways and perhaps the development of the unusual cooperation and spirit among the some two hundred members began with those hectic and embarrassing initiatory events of the first few weeks of school. As soon as the members of the class became acclimated, however, they immediately began to establish themselves prominently in almost every phase of college activity.

The varsity football squad immediately took five '32 men as regulars. Later, when the basketball season began, four men from the class were included in the lineup. Five more of this freshman group joined the long established "Red and Black Serenaders", the official college dance orchestra. In the spring the varsity baseball squad included three of the newcomers.

The "Freshman Frolic" and the other social events sponsored by the class established beyond question its status as a well organized, spirited and ingenious group of students who would be a credit to any collegiate institution.

The following fall, the class of '32 returned with eager determination to further not only its own projects and ambitions but also those enterprises which were of interest to the entire college group. As in the preceding year the varsity lineups included many members of the class. The Tribunal edited and printed a Freshman Handbook, a thing which has neither before nor since been done. The Music Supervisors from this class inaugurated several new ideas and practices including formal class parties and a little symphony orchestra. The famous "Red and Blacks" changed their name to "The Pedagogues" but continued (with the aid of six '32 men) to carry the name of Mansfield State to the larger colleges and universities of the northeastern states. The Debating team included three from the class and they were in part responsible for the success of the team. The Home Economics members not only distinguished themselves in their own field, but became competent artists and produced many of the attractive advertising posters which have decorated the Arcade during the past three years.

The class dance—this time the "Soph Hop" was so delightful that it again proved the ability of the class to cooperate and to sponsor successfully not only athletic and intellectual but social events as well.

In view of the unusual success experienced in all projects during their first two years at school it is not surprising that Junior class members should be the initiators and administrators of the many new activities which go hand and hand with the growth of the college. The establishment of educational and music fraternities on the campus was due largely to the efforts of Juniors; and the officers of these fraternities are for the most part members of this class. Three of the managers of varsity sports for this year are Junior class members. Again the varsity squads include men from this class and as in the preceding years the Music Department has tacitly acknowledged the talent and efficiency of Junior members in several ways. The editors of "The Cadence", two officers of the Supervisors' Club and two Tri-Beta officers are from the Junior Class.

The Junior Prom was notable this year because of the novelty of its decorations and programs. Those attending it could not help but admit that it was one of the most enjoyable and delightful social functions of the year and the indications are that again, for the third time, the Class of '32 has had a singularly successful season.

Junior Class Roll

- Allis, Ellsworth "Snake" Mansfield, Pa.
The line breaks and "Snake" comes through to achievement and scores.
- Applegate, Ruth "Ruthie" Chenango Forks, N. Y.
If you have known Ruth you won't forget her. She has the gift of friendship, loyalty and charm, and she is blest with a sense of humor.
- Barner, Elizabeth "Betty" Towanda, Pa.
Here is a personality of one who is individualistic, unselfish, sincere, and admired by everyone who knows her. She is an excellent student and the best of good sports.
- Bennett, Fred "Freddie" Mansfield, Pa.
A local lad who is always willing to lend a helping hand. And is he a trainer?
- Brock, Norman "Norm" Coudersport, Pa.
An end and no end to his ability as an athlete in every sense of the word.
- Baynes, Harold "Baynsie" Mansfield, Pa.
When Wall Street needs a new treasurer, Baynsie qualifies.
- Brooks, Gladys "Gladys" Mansfield, Pa.
A pleasant smile, a helping hand and a faithful worker and you have her recipe for life.
- Casner, Bruce Linden, Pa.
Nimrod has nothing on Casner. He is a fine sport anywhere and a peach of a fellow.
- Clark, Lenore Westfield, Pa.
A quiet girl who knows her A-B-C's, especially her A's.
- Corbin, Barnett "Lanky" Montour Falls, N. Y.
Though short in stature his nickname fits him wonderfully in-so-far-as his character, popularity and good will are concerned.
- Curtis, Mary Middletown, N. Y.
"Veni, Vidi, Vici". And what she doesn't conquer isn't worth the effort.
- Devine, Craig "Judge" Lawton, Pa.
Mathematician, scientist, and a cheery greeting for everyone, that's "Judge". Would that there were more like him.

- Dietsche, Margaret "Peg" Mansfield, Pa.
If you want to put anything over on "Peg" don't speak Latin;
for she knows what that is all about.
- Dorsett, Howard Mansfield, Pa.
Following the example of his brother, Lewis, amplifies his field of knowledge.
- Doughton, Anna "Ann" Mansfield, Pa.
She has that meditation which produces useful thoughts. Where does she get it?
- French, Harriet Mansfield, Pa.
Service is her motto. Many good meals have been made better by her pleasing way.
- Gamble, Sara "Sally" Williamsport, Pa.
Gay, vivacious, studious, and oh! how neat. That's "Sally". She can be stern at times, though, as all good council members must be.
- Gould, Alfred "Al" Mansfield, Pa.
His cleverness has taken many prizes and "falls". Wrestling feats have stirred the blood of sport spectators.
- Hachita, Katsutaro "Katz" Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
He knows his slides. Projects and projections are his hobbies.
- Hardie, Alexander "Al" Ridgefield Parks, N. J.
A party simply cannot be dead when "Al" is in it. He honestly believes in "Service with a smile", and loads of it.
- Hewitt, Catherine J. Blossburg, Pa.
"J" stands for justice and perhaps you think she doesn't apply it to her studies.
- Hewitt, Catherine R. Sayre, Pa.
"C"—Something she never gets
"R"—responsibility plus
"H"—honorary to the Nth degree.
- Hotalen, Delancy Mansfield, Pa.
A church dweller, perhaps that will reveal to you his inward character.
- Hutcheson, Richard "Dick" Blossburg, Pa.
An actor, a doer of good deeds and an industrious chap, there you have "Dick" in fact.
- King, Cresence Knoxville, Pa.
She has a studious, pleasant and earnest attitude and a real appreciation of nature.
- Kushiba, Stacia Glen Lyon, Pa.
"Silence is golden." Does it pay? Follow her and you're certain to succeed.

- Lang, Aimee Wellsboro, Pa.
Her determination to get an education drives her daily to this school.
- Lent, Frances Mansfield, Pa.
One of the locals who certainly shows her loyalty to the school.
- Lewis, Gomer "Joe" Jermyn, Pa.
Wrestling and music are his side kicks. His business ability is acknowledged by several extra curricular organizations.
- Light, Merritt "Bub" Rush, Pa.
The "light" that always shines. A hearty laugh where it is appropriate and a willing hand characterize "Bub".
- Marvin, Tena "Tina" Covington, Pa.
An all 'round good sport. That's Tena. Can she debate? And how? Why does Tena think she will always be connected with the teaching profession?
- Mallalieu, Eleanor "Norie" Williamsport, Pa.
Five foot four, an honor score; with taffy hair and baby stare, our "Norie" is endeared to us.
- Moyer, Wilton "Lizz" Galetton, Pa.
One willing to tackle anything that comes his way. Athletically he is a whiz.
- Mumford, Dorothy Mansfield, Pa.
Perhaps you don't know her, but you're missing something if you don't get acquainted.
- Norbert, Alexander "Al" Kingston, Pa.
"Al" is a fine sport and a very active member of our class. He, too, and rightfully so, has an interest in the Home Ec. Dept.
- O'Brien, Mary Mansfield, Pa.
Another one coming back to old Mansfield to further her education.
- Painter, Louise Corning, N. Y.
A debator, an actress and a popular young lady. Can she trip the light fantastic?
- Pelegrino, Peter Newark, N. J.
One of the most active smokingroom arguers.
- Pogar, Elmore Noxen, Pa.
A fine, industrious fellow with a voice that can send his good thoughts with plenty of emphasis.
- Popadick, Michael "Mike" Costello, Pa.
Carefreeness is a distinguishing quality of this Potter County lad who returned after a year of rest to Mansfield to further his education.

- Raker, Miles "Niles" Liberty, Pa.
His game of checkers and his ability to work "Math" are hard to beat.
- Ransom, Vivian New Milford, Pa.
The girl with a million dollar personality.
- Scudder, Louise Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Studiosness brings her a distinction that everyone admires.
She certainly swings a mean racket.
- Schudder, Louise "Lou" Coopers Plains, N. Y.
Louise is many things: a sincere friend, a good pal, an intelligent student and a good sport. As we know her better, we love and admire her more.
- Shoemaker, Pauline "Polly" Canton, Pa.
Vim, vigor and vitality are embodied in her and you just can't keep such a person down.
- Simms, Frank "Frankie" Scranton, Pa.
An all 'round sport. Football is his hobby. Basketball is his sport. Tennis is his pastime. Socially he is a master hand.
- Smith, Gould "Smitty" Hallstead, Pa.
Gould is a genuine, hard-working fellow. His true ability is expressed through dramatics.
- Smith, Leonard "Smith" Montrose, Pa.
You have to know "Smith" very well to understand his manly principles. Anyone who has ever had a class with him can understand why he gets "A's".
- Snyder, Austin "Horace" Throop, Pa.
Here is a gentleman who puts his heart in everything that he does. He shines especially in extra-curricular activities.
- Titus, Pauline Tunkhannock, Pa.
Another who returned to our ranks after graduation.
Jun is a congealed drop of goodness.
- Trevitt, William "Willow" Jermyn, Pa.
He follows our sports with a keen interest.
Who enjoys the light fantastic better than he?

Trexler, Nathan "Nate" Knoxville, Pa.
Another who returned to the fold to add to his natural ability.
He is right at home in the classroom or the science lab.

Updyke, John Gillett, Pa.
His earnestness, studiousness and willingness will certainly carry him to heights above the ordinary.

Verbeck, Gladys Troy, Pa.
She proves that the alphabetical standing has nothing to do in determining the scholastic rating.

Webster, Dorothy "Dot" Mansfield, Pa.
"To have friends, one must be friendly" believes "Dot", who is also studious, sincere and reserved.

Whittaker, Glen "Gee" Mansfield, Pa.
One of the commuters who brings in plenty of ability to the school. Can he work math, and how!

Wolfe, Edna "Eddie" Snedekerville, Pa.
To "Eddie", the hair-dresser's delight, we sing!
But we do admit that she's a fine advertisement for 'em.

Wydman, Errold "Wydie" Corning, N. Y.
In height he has a big start on most of us. Athletically inclined in all directions.

Home Economics

Bartholomew, Frances "Feb" Canton, Pa.
If "Feb" ever stayed in Mansfield more than two successive week-ends of her life, a conclusion that there was some misunderstanding would be drawn.

Bond, Gertrude "Gert" Shickshinny, Pa.
G—ood
E—verybody's friend
R—eady to help
T—rue to State.

Bott, Esther "Betty" Nanticoke, Pa.
Does "Betty" like to ride the Scenic Route? From all appearances we think she does. Of course we are judging by the number of week-ends she goes home (?).

Elliott, Gertrude "Gerty" Corning, N. Y.
If duties present themselves to "Gertie" she hesitates not one second 'till they are finished. She always is on hand to prove herself a "friend in need"!

Franc, Ruth "Ruthie" Lake Ariel, Pa.
 Once in a while she's happy,
 Once in a while she's sad;
 But twice in a while the thought of her smile
 Makes the whole world seem glad.

Gilbert, Pauline "Bete" Knoxville, Pa.
 The class would be a loss if we didn't have quiet "Bete" to offer her worthwhile suggestions.

Gill, Helen "Gill" Enka, N. C.
 Take a pleasing personality, add to it charm, wit, and individuality, season with a Southern accent. Result—"Gill".

Landon, Leah "Blondie" Canton, Pa.
 A trip of the light fantastic,
 A swirl of perfectly waved hair,
 An individual laugh,
 Scholastically above par—that's Leah!

Maneval, Ethel Liberty, Pa.
 A quiet, sincere individual; yet ready to have fun at the right time and in proper circumstances.

Miller, Margaret "Peg" Altoona, Pa.
 Scholastically "Peg" tops the list in everything. Not meeting her is your hard luck, and you don't know what you are missing.

Reinwald, Mary "Reiny" Wellsboro, Pa.
 She holds up the reputation of the Wellsboro "Gang" by starring on the girls' basketball team.

Seitzinger, Jean Mt. Carmel, Pa.
 She is vitally concerned with the teaching profession along with her school work. The rhythm of music sets her feet moving gracefully.

Shirey, Eleanor Williamsport, Pa.
 Here is to our curly haired artist friend with those laughing
 Irish eyes. Although she is a Home Ec. she knows her music.

Stevens, Harriett "Steve" Corning, N. Y.
As a poster maker she takes the cake. Art is second nature for her. Try to make a party dead with her as a member.

Thompson, Jane "Jane" Harrisburg, Pa.
 "Let's do this awhile." She makes up by action bountifully for what she lacks in stature. Jane is a real friend, a good dancer and no mean actress.

VanDerVoort, Fanny Lake Ariel, Pa.
Fanny always had a tender nature so it is no wonder that she is interested in tree surgery.

Zimmerman, Violet "Zim" Pottsville, Pa.
Some day you will see: "V. M. Zimmerman, Private", on the frosted glass of an office door. A girl with "Zim's" business ability will go far.

Music Supervisors

Anders, Mae “Maizie” Simpson, Pa.
Laughing Irish eyes and a sunny smile—that is Mae.
She is a friend worth having and one not to be forgotten.

Barnes, Gertrude "Barnsey" Towanda, Pa.
 Music has its charm for all, even the petite, demure, wide-eyed damsel. We don't blame you, "Barnsey."

Bush, Mary Louise "Bushy" Standing Stone, Pa.
There are so many things to say about "Bushy", but here is a study of adjectives—clever, witty, charming, sweet, gracious, talented, and most individualistic.

Campbell, Ann	"Ann"	Athens, Pa.
Always glancing at her watch to see if it is time to meet one of those Tri-Beta boys. "Sweet Ann" is a very necessary part of the Junior Music "Sūps".

Crain, Margaret "Marg" East Aurora, N. Y.
Not alone does she attract us in the sense of being brilliant or wise, but her thinking of others also makes us admire her.

Crist, Glenwood Muncy, Pa.
We understand that music is his major, but nevertheless he lives with a "Miller." His ability for playing on the violin has shown his appreciation of life.

- Dawe, Arthur "Art" Ashley, Pa.
Pep, friendliness, earnestness, and unusual musical ability distinguishes "Art".
- Fischler, Louise "Lou" Wellsboro, Pa.
One of those snappy dames from Wellsboro, that drop in on Mansfield for classes and such. She goes over unanimously in both towns.
- Fischler, Margaret "Marg" Wellsboro, Pa.
She is as popular as her sister and is an important cog in the Junior class.
- Hoffman, Ruth "Red" Doylestown, Pa.
Everyone knows our peppy cheer-leader. It is because of her red hair that Ruth is a bright light in our college.
- Iorio, Frank "10-R-10" Harrisburg, Pa.
"Frankie" takes advantage of his home environment and uses those excellent thoughts to a great advantage here.
- Isele, John "Johnnie" Harrisburg, Pa.
A faithful waiter, pleasing personality and a trumpeter of note, and you have "Johnnie" in a nut shell.
- Leuert, Margaret "Peg" Kingston, Pa.
From the University of Rochester comes this splendid piece of added color to the Music Sûps.
- McClain, Beatrice "Bea" Chambersburg, Pa.
Curly hair and twinkling eyes,
No one is blue when "Bea" arrives.
- McCord, Willet "Bill" Harrisburg, Pa.
He is satisfied when he can play many instruments for his "Alma" (Mater).
- Marsh, Howard "Marshy" Galetton, Pa.
He certainly is clever when he has his hand on a racket, especially when playing love sets.
- Martin, Ruth Lancaster, Pa.
An ability, willingness, determination to "Do or Die", an open-hearted sincerity all woven into a naturally sweet charming personality; have spelled popularity and success for Ruth.
- Mellinger, Irene "Rene" Akron, Pa.
Her eyes as stars of twilight fair,
Like twilight, too, her dusky hair;
And beauty born of songs she's sung,
Makes music every mood.
- Millis, Maxine "Max" Bolivar, N. Y.
"Max" is quiet and reserved, but has a smile to greet whenever you see her. She's another of those "Musical Ladies".

- Milnes, Maud Rushville, Pa.
Remember Tennyson said, "Queen rose of the rosebud garden of girls". Maud is all this plus the attraction of an intelligent, most lovable college girl.
- Neff, Burnetta Jersey Shore, Pa.
"To live is to laugh." "Happy as a lark" applies to both her voice and character.
- Oldfield, Willis "Willy" Bath, N. Y.
Damrosch has a serious rival in Oldfield. Many words would be necessary to describe properly his ability, both in music and business, so let us say that he is par-excellence in all his activities.
- Shiels, Frances Towanda, Pa.
"Silent water breaks bridges." "Shielsy" conceals a very vivid and interesting personality which we would like to know better.
- Simpson, Alma "Al" Punxsutawney, Pa.
Beauty, song and a gracious smile.
These are the things that make life worth while.
- Smith, Alice "Smitty" Wellsboro, Pa.
Her lovely voice is not her only charm; however, her part in the Wellsboro quartet will linger long with us.
- Spear, Hilda Chambersburg, Pa.
Pep, talent and good looks—what more can you ask. A Music Sūp with these qualifications has promising possibilities of a success.
- Wilcox, Marjorie "Marg" Wellsboro, Pa.
Not too serious—
Not too gay—
A good pal in every way.
- Williams, Mabel Uniondale, Pa.
There's so much of Mabel that is appealing that it is difficult to describe her. She lives in all our hearts, typical of sweet simplicity, sympathy and understanding.
- Woodard, Merle "Trudy" Mansfield, Pa.
The years that try to mold and mend,
Have proved the worth of a precious friend.
Silence is her speech of love,
Like music of the spheres above.
- Wray, Lillie Williamsport, Pa.
This sweet singer comes last but not least on the roll. Her alphabetical position does not determine her ability or standing.

Football

As "Baltimore has its oysters" and "Boston has its beans", so "Mansfield has its football".

Interest was keen on all sides, and the games were played with the idea of good clean sportsmanship.

In reviewing the past season with the condition and material we can say that we had a successful season although we only won two games, tied one and lost four. This, however, was due largely to injuries.

From the appearance of the score sheet one might think our team was not the best, but there was actually only one game where we can truthfully say they were outclassed, and this one, and only one, was Dickinson. Coach Russell and his colleagues can certainly feel proud of their results.

Russell
Coach

There are those who blame the players, and those who blame the coaches, but if it promotes the school spirit, mental as well as physical education together with clean, hard playing, football is worth a place in every student's life.

With Captain "Chuck" Hartman, "Red" Carpenter, "Mike" Hrycenko, Brock, Baker, Gullo, "Charley" Schlappi, "Steve" Sunday, "Snake" Allis, "Liz" Moyer, Snyder, and "Gord" Lloyd who were letter men of previous years, our squad certainly looked "right" last fall. Besides all of these regulars there was promising material found in the recruits among whom were: "Red" Estes, Burnett, Prugh, and Davis. All of these gave us exceptionally good work.

Ithaca, 7

With everybody in the pink of condition, Mansfield opened her football season with a "crack and a bang" by defeating Ithaca Physical Education 20-7.

Our hard plunging backs, with fine aerial work carried the pigskin to the "Promised Land" for a total of twenty points. Schlappi and Allis furnished the fireworks in the backfield, while Baker ran the end with smashing power. In the last quarter, one of our passes was intercepted and a Blue and Gold player ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Baker's injured ankles were neglected and he was out for the rest of the season.

Captain Hartman
Halfback

Hartman has been a varsity man at Mansfield for four years. His fast running, together with his keen headwork has led the team to victory many times.

Although the team lost more games than it won this year, we can truthfully say that Captain Hartman put everything he had in the game, and came out with a successful season.

Mansfield, 7 Lock Haven, 19

The mountaineers ventured to Lock Haven, only to come back at the short end of the score. This, however, was due largely to the clouds of dust that arose every time the ball was snapped. Lock Haven did not pierce our forward wall for much, if any, gain. Their gains may be summed up in fast end runs.

The mountaineers seemed to be dormant until the fourth quarter, when they opened a desperate attack and scored on a forward, Lloyd to "Micky" Hartman. Hrycenko's beautiful place kick added the extra point. "Red" Carpenter and "Snake" Allis received injuries and were lost the rest of the season.

The grid warriors of M. S. T. C. held their own against our greatest rival, Bloom. Schlappi scored our touchdown in the initial period when he speared one of Bloom's fumbles, in mid air, and dashed fifty-eight yards to score. Throughout the game, the pill moved from one end of the field to the other. Mansfield gained on the wonderful punting attack of Hrycenko and Schlappi by outdistancing Bloom about twenty yards on each kick. Bloom's score came in the last period with a long forward. With a few minutes left to play, the mountaineers resorted to an aerial attack. As the final whistle sounded, Lloyd shot a long forward which nearly resulted in a score.

Dickinson's hard plunging backfield was too much for the Red and Blacks to swallow. We caught them at the peak of their form and suffered the worst defeat of the season. Their line plunging, forward passing, and defense aided Dickinson at every stage of the game.

Mansfield's score came in the last period when Kennedy intercepted one of Dickinson's forwards and rushed twenty-five yards for a "six-pointer". Simms and Moyer played stellar roles in the game for us. However, try as it would, the "Red and Black machine" could not "take off".

Mansfield, 0 Stroud, 19

Stroudsburg, flashing a brilliant first quarter, took the long end of the score from Mansfield in a 19-0 tilt for the fifth game of the season. Although they scored three touchdowns in the first quarter, they were held scoreless in the last three. This might not have happened if the regular linesman had started the game. Simms was the star of the day. Throughout the season he was outstanding in smearing the opponents back before they crossed the line of scrimmage. Hrycenko, "Liz" Moyer and the mighty Estes played a nice game. Statistics prove that Mansfield was not outclassed. We attempted nine forwards and completed four, secured four first downs and were penalized five yards, while Stroud attempted four forwards and completed two, making five first downs and were penalized sixty-five yards.

Mansfield, 6 Cortland, 32

Everything on the football menu worked to perfection for Cortland in this game. Mansfield was not so much out-classed as the score would indicate. At the end of the half the score was 6-6. Hartman was running the ends with terrific speed. Taking the ball on our own 15 yard line we marched it down the field to scoring position. Here we were penalized 35 yards and after making a first down, Lloyd carried the pill over the chalk for a tally. As is generally the case when we visit our northern rival, "Old Man Weather" gave us a snow covered field on which to play. Cortland's victory to a large extent may be credited to their speedy backs.

Mansfield, 39 Oswego, 13

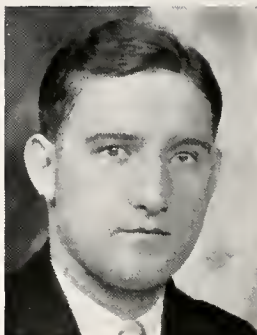

Mansfield was determined to stage a comeback. The school spirit was behind the team, which made every player feel confident of a victory. This determination couldn't be blocked and our backs carried the old pig-skin across the goal for a grand total of thirty-nine points to Oswego's thirteen. Hartman was running the ends while Schlappi was furnishing the power to hit the line. He went through twice to run more than thirty yards to score. Oswego scored twice on forward passes, one of which was questionable.

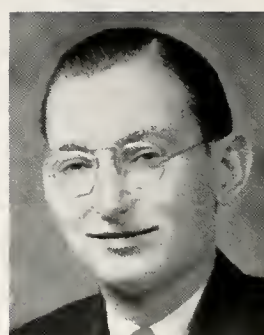

Basketball

If the number of games won can be taken as a standard of judgment on the success of a basketball season, then it must be conceded that the summary of the season of 1930-'31 at Mansfield is not too rosy. However, when it is considered that the team was pitted against veteran teams of four-year organizations and made excellent showings against them, even the most exacting critic must admit that the boys "done themselves noble." Out of a gruelling schedule of eleven games the team turned in a card on which was recorded four victories for the Mountaineers and seven triumphs for their opponents. The total points scored by Mansfield was 346, while her enemies mounted up a grand total of 377 or only 31 points more than did the Red and Black warriors.

Of last year's team there were available five first-string men, namely: Captain "Auk" Lutes, "Frankie" Simms, "Snake" Allis, Errold Wydman and Dave Price. Among the new-comers that earned a place on the squad were the local flashes, Brown and Marsh. Maynard, Bunnell and Albee finished the roll of the Varsity. All of these men except Price will be available for the coming season.

The Junior Varsity, under the very able coaching of Assistant Coach Hrycenko, showed promise of contributing materially to next year's basket tossing aggregation.

Mansfield, 15; Dickinson, 22

The opener against Dickinson resulted in a setback for the Red and Blacks. At the end of the first half we lead Dickinson by a score of 13 to 5 but in the second half the Billtown team opened its eyes and set forth a rally giving our squad the short end. One would not think the Red and Black aggregation could be held to a single two-pointer in the second half but they were.

Mansfield, 30; Lock Haven, 26

Our next victim, namely Lock Haven, took a beating from Coach Marvin's squad in a hard fought game. This game was a well played affair. The passing of the Mountaineers surpassed that of the Morganites.

The close score was the result of two well-matched teams playing good basketball. Price was high scoring star with 15 points to his credit. All the other players registered for the Tioga County School.

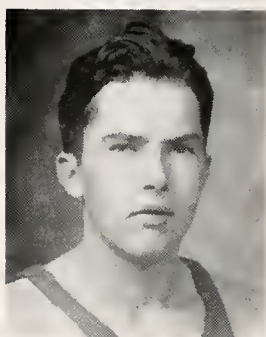

Mansfield, 29; Stroudsburg, 54

The Red and Blacks ventured to Monroe County only to take the short end from the Stroudsburg team. Unfortunately, the Tiogans were handicapped by the long bus ride and the lack of sleep. By observing this one can easily see what we were up against.

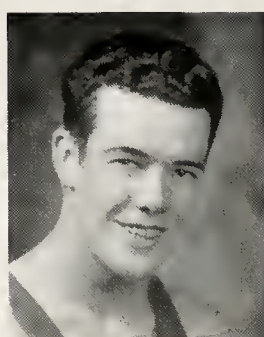

Stroud had a large margin on the score in the first half but in the second the Mountaineers stopped their fast scoring attack by superb defensive work.

Mansfield, 37; Bloomsburg, 53

Bloomsburg, after being held to even terms in the first half, staged a desperate last quarter and defeated the up-state team at Bloom. Early in the game it was easy to see that it was to be anything but a one-sided fracas. The score ran neck and neck the first half. Mansfield weakened in the second half and toward the latter part of the game four of our men were sent to the showers by detected performing, real and imaginary, by the referee. Mansfield had twenty-one fouls to Bloomsburg's eight.

Mansfield, 26; Stroudsburg, 34

Price, the eagle-eye of the squad, was out on account of illness, thus leaving Lutes and Maynard as forwards. The game was exceedingly fast and well-played. Both teams passed well, but neither showed the ability of making "sleeper-shots".

Early in the game Stroud gained the lead which they jealously guarded throughout the fracas. Simms, Lutes and Maynard were the stars of the Red and Black attack. While "Frankie" led the Mountaineers in scoring, Lutes and Maynard did particularly good passing.

Mansfield, 32; Dickinson, 33

Although Price scored twenty-one points, which outscored the entire Seminary team from the field, Mansfield was unable to win the fray. The lead see-sawed back and forth, thus the entire event was a continuous whirling battle.

The ability of the Dickinson team to sink the spheroid from the goal line earned them the victory. They made good fifteen out of twenty-three tries.

Mansfield, 40; Ithaca Physical Ed., 43

Mansfield journeyed to Ithaca with the determination to clean her record with that team. However, the opponents got off a fast start and scored several baskets before the Red and Blacks got organized. The mountaineers tied the score in the last quarter only to have Ithaca drop through a two-pointer and put the game on ice.

Mansfield, 44; Elizabethtown, 31

This game was a matinee contest against Elizabethtown on a foreign court. The superiority of the Red and Black machine was readily shown. The fine passing and scoring ability kept the boys in practice for the game scheduled the next day. It also gave the subs a chance to show their stuff which they did by coming out on the long end of the score.

Mansfield, 34; West Chester, 30

Mansfield fought her way to glory at West Chester when she dealt the Quaker team their first defeat in thirteen tries this season. As the game opened, the up-staters put up stubborn defense and passed the ball with sureness and accuracy. At the end of the second quarter the Quakers moved into a four-point lead.

The confidence and determination to win, together with the keen passing and ability to find the loop put the game "in the bag" for Mansfield. Simms and Price each scored twelve points.

Mansfield, 35; Lock Haven, 22

Price again stepped to the fore and took all the glare from Lock Haven's nice, shining outfit by dropping twenty-one counters through the loop.

Lock Haven's principal exhibit was their center who had eleven points credited to his Alma Mater. Mansfield gained a lead early in the game and maintained it throughout the entire contest.

Mansfield, 24; Ithaca Phy. Ed., 29

The final game of the season was lost to Ithaca in a hard-fought contest. Our fast breaking forwards together with the good passing resulted in a score of 13-8 at the half in our favor. Ithaca's center and forward carried the burden of their attack by scoring twenty points. The slender margin which the visitors earned in the second half, saved them and the gun saw Mansfield at the short end of the score. At the end of the game, Price doffed his suit closing a great career at his Alma Mater.

Base Ball

A baseball write-up in this Carontawan is of necessity a forecast and, in being a forecast, it appears a trifle too late because, when this is read the baseball season will be nearly past.

This year, as always, the baseball future of our college looks particularly roseate. Seven letter men from previous seasons are on hand to provide a nucleus for the 1931 squad. Among these are the following: Hrycenko, captain and catcher; Roderick and Wydman, pitchers; Dunbar and Wilkinson, infielders; and Carpenter and Sunday, outfielders.

New men of promising ability will vie for positions not already capably filled. This year's crop of recruits looks to be one of the best in many years. The schedule followed for the 1931 season will embrace about ten games. Contests will be played with Cortland, Bloomsburg, Stroudsburg, Dickinson, and Ithaca Physical Education.

Wrestling

Our second season in wrestling showed that the team made rapid strides in this manly art. Two meets were won and six lost. This is not such an impressive record, but considering the fact that three meets were lost by a slim margin of one match, it can plainly be seen that a rapid advance has been made in gaining the fundamentals of the game.

Our schedule consisted of the very best opponents in this State and also a prep-school championship team who defeated us only by the small margin of one match. Prospects look bright for the future and, with a schedule as difficult as the one this year, we predict that it will not be long before Mansfield State Teachers College will be recognized in the mat game.

We opened the season by losing a one-sided affair to Alfred University which was due to the inexperience of the local team. This inexperience, however, was replaced and toward the end of the season it appeared that Mansfield had a wicked aggregation of mat performers. Gullo, Prugh, Fiske, and Bartoo were steady winners for the mountaineers but Dame Fortune seemed to be away when she was needed most and, as a result, three losses were chalked up that could have been registered as victories.

Name	Class	Weight
Ashkar	118	118
E. Bartoo	125	125

Fisk	145	145
Gullo	155	154
Jenkins	165	165
Reilly	175	155
Prugh	Unlimited	185

The second meet of the season was a fray with Ithaca Physical Education, which the team took without much opposition. At this meet E. Bartoo wrestled in the 118 pound class and won the match by a fall. Fisk, Gullo and Prugh also won their matches by falls. Stroud, it seemed, had the edge on the Mountaineer grapplers and handed us the short end of the deal. This, however, was somewhat due to the long and tiresome ride with which the boys had to contend. On this same trip the team ventured to Franklin and Marshall, only to meet a much more experienced team, and were defeated. The meet with Wyoming Sem. was a fast and interesting fracas. The score "see-sawed" from the beginning to the end. E. Bartoo was out of the line-up because of an injured ear and Fisk had an injured ankle, but he wrestled in his class. The final meet of the season was won by the M. S. T. C. squad. This made it two losses for the northern rival this season. In this meet every member of the squad was in good condition and the boys delivered the goods.

Yatsi Gullo served as coach for his second year and, while we regret his departure, we think we have a worthy successor in the person of Prof. L. E. Baird, of the local high school faculty. Prof. Baird has had previous wrestling experience at Pennsylvania State College, both in the capacity of wrestler and coach. E. Bartoo was elected captain for the following year. Together with his colleagues, Ashkar, Riley, Kerr, Reynolds and G. Bartoo, he will form the nucleus of our next year's team, and, with added interest, we hope to have a winning wrestling team.

Track

Track at Mansfield is undergoing a period of rejuvenation. In the spring of 1930 track made its appearance in the athletic program for the first time in several years. A relay team composed of Baker, Worthington, Powers, Fisk and Raker represented Mansfield in the State Teachers College meet at West Chester and at the Interscholastic and prep School track meet at State College.

This year Mansfield had a bigger and better track squad than she boasted last year. All five of the men who made up the relay team of last season were in school and it was around these men that Coach Jupenlaz built his team. Twenty or twenty-five men worked out every afternoon in Smythe Park and the results of their endeavors are already known.

The sports authorities of the school plan to award a varsity letter to those men who achieved some outstanding feat during the season.

Meets were arranged with Bloomsburg and Cortland, our time honored rivals. Besides these the team showed up very nicely at State College and at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

Intramural Athletics

This much talked about form of athletics has long been the "football of politics" at M. S. T. C. The season of 1931, however, is the beginning of a new era for intramural athletics. The rules of this form of athletics are now incorporated in the Men's Student Government Association, not a temporary arrangement but a permanent fixture.

The regular schedule of games was followed almost religiously to the end. Rivalry was very keen among the teams, and as a result, many fast games were played. The Juniors started out at a good pace for high honors, but managed to finish only third in the league. The Seniors and Sophomores fought neck and neck to the finish, the Seniors nosing out at the end to capture the winning honors of first place, and the Sophomores ended their season by coming in a close second. The Frosh from the first seemed to be outclassed and lost eight games in succession. This was not due to poor material but rather the inability to play well together. But mark my word, these boys go in the future.

Intramural athletics are not merely a way to show class rivalry or to work off excess steam, but under the new system any man who is not a Varsity "M" winner has a chance to obtain his class numerals under a definite point classification.

It is only fitting and proper that mention be made here of the scoring wizards. Suhocke, '31, and Worthington, '33, each looped in enough baskets and fouls to tie first place honors, each having a grand total of forty-eight points. Not far behind the leaders are Blanchard, '31, Moyer, '31, and Kintner, '34, with forty-six, forty-three, and forty-one points respectively to their credit. Moving on down the table of statistics, we have Marsh, '32, with thirty-six points; Kerr, '33, with thirty-four points; Estes, '33, with twenty-nine points; Parke, '31, with twenty-seven points; and Helmer, '33, with twenty points. These ten men made a grand total of three hundred seventy-four points, equal to fifty-six percent of the total scores.

Team scoring for the season is as follows: Seniors, 223 points in twelve games; Sophomores, 188 points in eleven games; Frosh, 144 points in twelve games; Juniors 112 points in nine games. During the entire season there was only one forfeit, the Seniors to the Sophomores.

Picking an all-star team from the goodly amount of excellent material is a hard job and the results will probably bring down much undue criticism. Two teams and four alternates have been selected and judged on the following points: 1. Scoring power. 2. Playing ability. 3. Games played. 4. Sportsmanship.

The season of 1931 will long be remembered as the starting point in a new lease on life for Intramural Athletics at Mansfield. Let's keep up the good work and not let this effort go wasted as similar efforts have done in the past.

It is with a great deal of pride that we mention the fact that the games were not without spectators. Some of the fair Co-eds came to jeer, stopped to wonder, and stayed to cheer their choices on to victory. This spirit of co-operation should not go unnoticed.

Besides basketball, other sports, started this year, were baseball and track. The baseball schedule consisted of about four games for each team. These games were played on the grass diamond near the Farm Products building in Smythe Park. A fair crowd attended the first few games, the girls doing most of the cheering. As the season came to a close, competition became much keener so that every game at the end of the season was attended by a much larger crowd.

Track is another way in which the classes showed their ability toward athletics. The track meet consisted of each class being represented in one meet. There were individuals of whose abilities we had never dreamed and at this time the Track coach got his eye on material for the next year's team.

In order that this season's schedule could be carried out we had to have the co-operation of the administrative body of the College. This we received and we wish to express our appreciation to those who were directly responsible for these favors. Mr. Storch and the Men's Student Government, we believe, are the ones that we should thank for helping to make these Intramural Sports a success. We should not forget, however, to extend our appreciation to Frank Simms and Lowell Carpenter for drawing up the rules of the games.

Y. M. C. A.

Of all the organizations that contribute to the welfare and recreation of the men at Mansfield State Teachers College, the Y. M. C. A. ranks among the highest in popularity and service.

The home of the Y. M. C. A., the Y Hut, is a bungalow, ninety by thirty-five feet, standing South of the gymnasium. This building serves as an informal gathering place for Y members. Here one may dream before an open fireplace; listen to music from piano, victrola, or radio; or one might read from the supply of current magazines always at hand. Should none of these attract, one may shoot pool, play checkers or dominoes. Dances, hikes, and minstrel shows are a few of the other recreational activities that occur during the year.

Although the Hut itself furnishes a moral atmosphere, a definite program is followed to promote the religious life of the men. This takes place in the form of evening devotional services, which are conducted weekly. Inspirational talks are contributed by members of the faculty, students, and outside men. Special music is always a feature of the evening.

This one organization of the campus strives to present each girl with the opportunity to develop the inherent spirituality of herself. Y. W. C. A. forms a part of the world wide gathering of young women, and brings to our campus a link with all lands and all races of girls who feel the common tie of a search for the best in life.

To carry on the work for which it is responsible Y. W. C. A. needs money. Funds are secured through the sale of candy, sandwiches, the bazaar and the annual dance. These funds are used to meet our especial needs and to aid in the larger movements through contributions to the National Student Council and the World Christian Federation. A portion of the money aids the poor at Christmas, another portion sends delegates to the Forest Park Conference.

Pervading all the activities, whether they be social, such as the P. J. parties, or whether they be religious, such as the weekly devotional meeting, it is the desire of the Y. W. to keep the best in the life of each member.

May 24, 1930, Dr. Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest, of Columbia University came to Mansfield to install Beta Rho Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. Kappa Delta Pi was founded at the University of Illinois, March 1911. It has steadily grown, until today, there are over seventy-two chapters in universities and colleges throughout the country.

The purposes of Kappa Delta Pi are to encourage in its members a higher degree of consecration to social service by fostering high professional and scholarship ideals during a period of preparation for teaching, and to recognize outstanding service in the field of education.

Juniors or Seniors who have had six semester hours of education and rank in the upper quartile of their class are eligible as members.

This year Kappa Delta Pi sponsored an observance of National Education Week in the College. The theme for the week was, "Education, Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow". In the short space of time since its organization, Beta Rho has earned for itself due recognition in the college.

Phi Sigma Pi

Phi Sigma Pi is a Professional Educational Fraternity for men in Teacher Training Institutions. Eligibility for Phi Sigma Pi is limited to men of superior scholarship who have at least one year's standing at this institution. It had the honor of being the first fraternity installed on the Mansfield State Teachers College campus. The installing ceremony took place on the evening of April 25, 1930, sixteen students and two faculty members being initiated. Under the willing and able sponsorship of Dr. George McNair the boys at once started in to make a success of the new venture. After the return in the fall of 1930, an enjoyable hike to Robin Hood's cabin was held. Shortly afterwards seven men were initiated. During the second semester three more students and faculty members: Profs. Cornish, Feig, and Morgan were initiated. Two delegates represented Mansfield at the biennial conclave of the Fraternity in Detroit, February 20-23, 1931. The Annual Formal Party was held March 7th in the Junior High School gym. Plans are now under discussion for the annual Founders' Day banquet.

The Dramatic Club

At the opening of the school year the Dramatic Club began anew the process of selection and development of dramatics material. Many new members were selected at the first meeting, which was devoted to the hearing of dramatic readings and selecting by a committee of club members those candidates who appeared to have special talents in this art.

Following the first meeting came the staging of the Annual Dramatic Club play. The play this year was "Only 38," and afforded an excellent opportunity for an exceedingly large number of young people to display their talents. It might also be mentioned that many of the Dramatic Club members interpreted parts in the Y. W. C. A. play, which was coached by a member of the Dramatic Club.

"Only 38"

The last meeting of the club was devoted to closing the books for the year and awarding of the Dramatic Club pins to those who have reached the required standards of attainment in dramatics for 1930-1931.

"Only 38," a charming play by A. E. Thomas, takes the audience through the trials of the young widow of a small town minister, who is trying to raise her two children, a boy and girl of college age, on the meager income left by her husband's death. At the opening of the action the mother appears to be rather past middle age and all of the towns-people, as well as her own children, constantly remind her of this fact. However, she goes against all the traditions of the life under which she was forced to exist while her husband was alive, and shows her youngsters that, after all, she is but little older than they. The family removes to a town in which is located a college so that the mother can see the children through the trials of college life and gradually she comes to move in the same circles as do her children. In the end she finds happiness with a young college professor much to the astonishment of the children who can scarcely realize that their mother is "Only 38."

The Art Club

The Art Club is one of the smallest, yet one of the strongest organizations on the campus. It is an honorary club, since the requirement for membership is a grade of "A" for one or more semesters of Art. The Club aims "To obtain a greater significance of the Fine Arts through the study of appreciation and the production of beautiful things."

The Art Club has been especially favored this year in having as guest Dr. C. Valentine Kirby, of the State Department of Art from Harrisburg, who came to us during Art Week, December 14-20. He gave a lecture, "Art in Common Things", which we greatly appreciated.

As it will be our duty to guide the youth of the country to live better, a general knowledge of art should be acquired. Each member gains an appreciation and love for the artistic through this organization which will prove valuable to the teacher. Since, "About the severest loss any man can sustain is the loss of opportunity", the Art Club encourages all members interested in art to take advantage of the opportunity.

The "M" Club

The M Club is an organization of men who have won Varsity letter recognition in the following sports: football, basketball, baseball, and tennis. The M Club promotes and encourages school spirit, sportsmanship, and clean, wholesome living. Socially the M Club ranks favorably with any club in the college. It sponsors an open dance, given in the fall of the year; a vaudeville show, usually given in the spring; and a closed dance, for M Club men and their guests. The club finances itself by selling tags to its supporters on a day designated as "M Club Tag Day", and by the sale of athletic programs. This money is used to defray expenses of the organization. This year the club voted to change the style of letters worn by its members. The new official "M" sweater is white. The red letter is bordered by a black stripe carrying out the school colors. At present about thirty-five men have their names on the roll of the M Club.

Girls' Athletic Club

"When the one great Scorer comes to write against your name,
 He writes—not that you won or lost, but how you played the game,"

To promote the spirit of Good Sportsmanship not only in contests but in the everyday life of a college, is the primary purpose of this club. In addition, it aims to promote athletics among girls by sponsoring interclass contests and tournaments, and by providing wholesome indoor and outdoor recreation for girls.

The club is a chapter of the Sportsmanship Brotherhood, a national organization, having joined two years ago. It was through the affiliation with this organization that a Good Sportsmanship Week was begun and successfully sponsored for the second time.

Another commendable project undertaken by the club was the establishment of a loan fund of one hundred and twenty-five dollars. This fund is available, preferably to any senior club member, but can be secured by any senior girl.

Ganonkwenon Club

The Ganonkwenon is a new club on the campus. It was organized last spring as a club in which the combined interests of the Hiking Club and the Outdoor Club might be preserved.

The name "Ganonkwenon" is an Indian name meaning "She is alert", and expresses the requirement for membership.

The aim of the organization is to provide outdoor exercise through hiking and to encourage an interest in nature.

Besides the regular meetings there are afternoon meetings which are devoted to outdoor recreation in the form of bonfire hikes, coasting parties, etc.

An attractive emblem is each year given to girls who earn a required number of points through hiking or the working out of projects.

Although the club is young, this year has been so encouraging that we feel that as an organization we are proving the name and are truly "Ganonkwenon".

Emersonian Literary Society

The Emersonian Literary Society aims to promote culture, an appreciation of things literary and a mutually helpful social atmosphere among the college students. Through the unflagging interest and zeal of our new sponsor, Miss Yowell, the club has continued to forge ahead. The bi-monthly programs, in which all members are expected to participate, are carefully planned with a view to making them both interesting and valuable.

A unique custom of our society is the yearly awarding of six honor pins to the six members who have done the most for the society along literary and scholastic lines. The six members are selected by means of a credit system the club has devised.

To the student body at large the society is best known as the sponsor of the inter-collegiate debates. These are held each year and arouse keen interest and enthusiasm among the students.

Latin Club

Whenever Latin or Latin Club is mentioned most people look bored and regard the speaker rather pityingly. But those who belong to S. P. Q. R. find nothing boring in its varied and interesting activities. The club meets only once a month and consequently its members appreciate it more. Like the Romans, the Latin Club believes that no gathering is complete without the eats.

S. P. Q. R., the official name of the club, stands for Senatus Populus Romanus; i. e., the Senate and the Roman People. Any member of the club may be identified by the pin which you may see upon his person somewhere, and upon which is engraved the magic S. P. Q. R. Perhaps it would be more appropriate to say, "upon her person", as there are only three men in the club.

To belong to the club one must have had three years of high school Latin, so it is really a rather exclusive organization.

La Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais, although one of the youngest of the College organizations, holds a very important and deeply-rooted place in active campus life. The club aims to furnish encouragement and opportunity for all students not only to study the language, literature, music, conversation, and customs of the French people, but also to develop skills in using them. These aims are carried out by means of widely varied programs.

Each meeting, and Le Cercle Francais meets twice a month, the president appoints a chairman to take charge of the next meeting and plan interesting programs of true educational value. Thus, plays and dialogues present the French language as it is really spoken; vocal and instrumental selections acquaint the club members with French music; stories and poems read in French, talks on French habits and customs, games, folk songs and picture-slides all give a clear and intimate idea of the everyday life of the French Nation. Practically every phase of the meetings of the club is conducted in French.

Le Cercle Francais has made an auspicious beginning and promises a very worthwhile future.

Das Vereinlein

Das Vereinlein aims to foster the appreciation of German culture and civilization and to stimulate an interest in Germany. To further these objectives the club instituted German Week.

Das Vereinlein gave the school an intellectual treat by having Dr. Koischivitz lecture in Mansfield again. He started everyone thinking by his analysis of the philosophy of life as shown through literature. Through the courtesy of the German railroads the club was able to procure the film, "Beautiful Germany"

In order to encourage students who have financial difficulties, this club has offered a small loan of twenty-five dollars which it hopes to increase as the funds accumulate.

Membership to Das Vereinlein is limited to those who have had one semester of German or its equivalent.

The Teacher Placement Magazine

The work of the Junior High School and the College is not complete when its students have served their term as a student and as a student teacher. The duty of the college is to give such courses as may be desired by any individual pupil. Culminating these courses the students are privileged to do practice teaching in the Junior High School under the direction of supervisors in charge there. After this has been done the educational work, as far as the college is concerned, is completed.

However, instead of leaving the future to the individual, as might be done, the Junior High School administrators attempt to complete the process by the placement of its students. As an aid in this the Teacher Placement Bulletin is published by them. This magazine contains a list of all of the degree students and such information about them as may be desired by school boards and principals. These magazines are sent to various people in the hope that any schools desiring new teachers will give consideration to the graduates who are certified to fulfill the duties of the position to be filled.

The Cadence

"The Last Thing in Music." It is with this slogan in mind that the Cadence staff gathers its material for each issue and judging by the complimentary letters received, it is succeeding in its aim. Each Cadence contains material that is helpful to those in the field and those entering the field in addition to all the activities carried on by our music department.

Besides our four regular editions, we are publishing this year our "Special Teacher Placement Issue." Illustrated with cuts and featuring our Senior Supervisors, it is without doubt a great stride toward the placement of our teachers.

Considering the fact that The Cadence is only two years old, we feel quite encouraged as to its success and we hope it will gain for itself a place in the hall of fame of Mansfield State Teachers College.

The Flashlight

Members of the staff, and, it is hoped, the student body, will look back on the year of 1930-31 as a most successful span in the life of the school paper. Relieved by state aid of financial difficulties and directed by an able chief and helpful sponsor, they have led a comparatively easy existence.

The board has tried to put real meaning into the name "Flashlight" by earnest attempts to keep both faculty and students in touch with all phases of school activity. Through its editorials it has endeavored to heighten school spirit and to encourage the worthy and discourage the unworthy in Mansfield's social and scholastic life.

While the board realizes that this year's paper is far from attaining perfection, it feels that the defects are not too numerous or too great to prove otherwise than incentive to the staffs of years to come.

The Carontawan

We, the Carontawan Board of 1931, present this fourteenth volume of the Carontawan as the final result of our co-operative efforts to publish for you a fine representative annual, complete in detail and worthy of this year's Senior Class.

Recognizing the fineness of many parts of former annuals, we could naught but incorporate them into this volume. To this then, we attribute the stamp of familiarity that many portions of this may bear. But we are not asking for leniency.

Into this last volume we have introduced new features and materially changed some of the old. A beautiful picture section in colors is offered for your approval. Our theme, the Development of Education, has been carefully worked out in picture and design throughout the book. And finally, painstaking care has marked the construction of every detail.

Therefore, with a feeling of good work well done, with every wish for future improvement and all due respect for past accomplishment, we present this fourteenth volume of "The Little Town on the Hill"

Group Four

Specialization, having demanded excellence in particular fields of human endeavour, now demands of teaching, specialization in each of the major fields of education. From such a demand, Group IV with its various activities has developed.

A casual explanation of this group would include only a few dry facts, while actually, as with many things of worth, great benefits and many important results are derived.

The technical description of the requirements, aims, and purposes can be shortly outlined. The entrance requirements demand a completed high school course or its equivalent; graduation requires 136 semester hours of study with passing grades, including both elective and required subjects. At the completion of these courses of study a degree of B. S. in Education is conferred on the student by the state. He is thus certified to teach in Junior and Senior High Schools such subjects that he has passed with at least 15 semester hours of work. There are usually three major studies of 18 hours each that are completed by the student. Two are elective and the other is automatically required.

The aims are truly modern in that they comprise efficiency, progress, and improvement. The latest methods in technique and discipline are taught and then practiced in the training school. The instructors are all trained teachers of experience, and the subject matter is material that is harmonious with teaching and instruction needs.

The purpose is, briefly, the preparation and training of Junior and Senior High School teachers.

There are a few thoughts concerning this group not especially to a description, but nevertheless important in a different way. The teacher dealing with pupils of adolescent age must set an example for them, he must be possessed of a knowledge of their characteristics, and must shape their visions that they may later become good citizens and true Americans. The teacher graduated from this group often continues his studies, acquires higher degrees, and teaches in higher institutions of learning.

Teaching has not advanced with civilization, but rather has been one of the causes for its wide-spread existence. How and why does the world progress? Teaching is the answer, for culture depends on education, and education comes largely through the teacher, and his guidance of intelligence.

The Junior High School

A modern building architecturally, an intelligent practical administration, up-to-date equipment including a modern "Industrial Arts" shop and modern "Home Economics" practice rooms, a practical program of studies and a normal group of 180 pupils, constitutes the Junior High School the very efficient training and practice school for all "Degree Seniors".

The Junior High School follows an arrangement in design and architecture that thoroughly lends itself to the needs of Junior High School pupils. The design of such a building necessarily calls for adequate light, a stage, a gymnasium, floor space, practical adaptation for a quick change to various classes, and a method for combining two classrooms into a large home room.

Professor Myron E. Webster and his corps of assistants, the various supervisors, form a very efficient administration. Their guidance, help and enthusiasm has awakened in many an indifferent student-teacher an ardent liking for the work, and has spurred the ambitious to greater efforts.

The program of studies besides the regular Junior High School courses with Industrial Arts Course for boys and Home Economics Course for girls, includes a very unusual combination in each of the said courses. One offers home economics work for boys and the other industrial arts work for girls. This is indeed a progressive step in curriculum making.

The Industrial Arts Shop is one of the most important parts of the school. Here, excellent instruction combined with practical machinery gives the pupil some basic knowledge concerning some of the "Arts", as printing, metal work, carpentering, and others.

From year to year the Junior High School adds new features to the already efficient program of contacts, athletics, and various others. More intimate contact is obtained with the pupil and consequently, a greater knowledge and acquaintance is the result. Other features of importance are the athletic expansion, the warm lunch, and the fitting of the new stage.

Fundamentally, this school has two purposes. First it is a school providing instruction common to the Junior High School movement, and second it is the means by which student teachers put into practice the theory and technique of teaching.

It is certain that every graduating student teacher leaves with regret but also with a personal interest in its welfare and a wish for its continued success.

The Training School

As the Junior High School is to the seniors in all four year courses, so the Model School is to those preparing to teach the first six grades. During one semester of the final year, for those taking the two year course, much of their time is spent in the presence of the Model School. Some of this time is put in by conducting worthwhile playground activities, but a still greater amount is taken up by the actual practice teaching and inside work of the department.

It is the aim of those in charge of the children during their first six years of public schooling to establish in pupils those habits beneficial to good health, efficient work, and effective thinking and acting in true life situations. Thus when the children have successfully completed the work in the elementary grades they are well prepared to enter the Junior High School. They have a rich background of history and geography. They can read intelligently and write legibly. They are familiar with art, music and manual arts in an elementary way and are in many other ways highly developed as a result of the system of which they are a part. In this way the development of the students is taken care of, but for the student teachers there are two major forces in our college at Mansfield which help determine the success of our professional life; our academic training which we get from class instruction, and the practical experience which we derive from student teaching. These two types of training may be compared to lighthouse and lanterns. Lighthouses cast their rays far out into the sea, laying a general course by which the seamen are guided in the right direction. Lanterns are smaller lights, but they chart the minor dangers and difficulties of our pathway. The Training School has been the light in our college life which has charted the way and explained difficulties which we are likely to encounter.

During the time we have spent in the Training School, we have acquired knowledge of the organization and methods of, not only the urban but also of the rural type of school. We have been able to hold an open-minded attitude toward modern methods and have had the opportunity of seeing the child in his process of development into a socially acceptable individual.

For the light which has guided us in our preparation for teaching, we, the class of 1931, are indebted to the Director of the Training School, Mr. George A. Retan, and the group of loyal supervisors, who have placed the lantern in our hand.

Music Supervisors' Club

The largest organization in the college at the present time, is the Music Supervisors' Club. Perhaps this is true because all music supervisors are automatically members of the club. Regular attendance at the meetings is expected unless a valid excuse is given.

To those in the club who are specializing in the field of music, excellent opportunities are afforded for training and education, not only in increasing personal proficiency, but also in the development of appreciation and understanding of the work of their contemporaries and predecessors. All of this has developed from the rapid growth of the Music Department during the past few years. Each year more music finds a place and serves a greater purpose in the lives of all the students on the hill.

The aims of the Music Supervisors' Department are threefold: first, to know what to do and how to do it; second, to develop a personality and a way to get along with people with whom we come in contact; and last, to be courteous and helpful to children and adults.

The club meets every Tuesday and many interesting programs are given throughout the year both to Music Supervisors and students outside the Supervisors' Course. Certain members of the music faculty supervised excellent programs concerned with the characteristics of foreign classical music. These various programs were of great value to the students, both in instruction and entertainment.

Throughout the year the Music Department presented musical programs to the whole student body, free of charge. These programs consisted of recitals given by the voice and piano teachers, and programs given by a chorus composed of one hundred thirty voices under the excellent training and direction of Mrs. Steadman.

The Band

The Concert Band is made up of about forty of the best players on instruments that will make up a symphonic proportion. Every two weeks this year we have played for chapel exercises and we take pride in preparing new material for each special number we are called on to play.

This year we have quite a flute section in the making. The French Horn players are off to a good start and the bassoon players do quite well until they strike a passage with one of those not-too-familiar clef signs. Outside of these few minor casualties performance is fairly smooth.

We played the local Fair job this year. At the last performance, which was in the evening the lights failed to function for a while so we played numbers that we had memorized. When we ran out of memorized material we played impromptus.

We have a Second Band of about fifty pieces that reminds us to keep on our toes as they are most of them anxious to get in first band when the opportunity offers itself.

The Symphony Orchestra

The oldest and one of the most outstanding musical organizations in the College is the Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Will George Butler. It is composed of sixty players representing the best instrumental talent of the institution. It is quite common now for every community of fifteen or twenty thousand to have a community orchestra, but long before this condition existed the Mansfield orchestra was pioneering in this field and was studying and programming the symphonies of the masters and other ambitious numbers. A player from a metropolitan symphony recently marveled at the results of this organization and commented most enthusiastically upon the string choir. It has given several fine symphonic programs during the year including the fourth annual concert in Elmira, N. Y., where it appeared before one thousand five hundred enthusiastic listeners.

Vesper Choir

One of the newest organizations of the school is the Vesper Choir, which was organized by Mrs. Grace Steadman, Dean of Music. This Choir is composed of fifty-four of the best voices of the college and the voice teachers.

The purposes of this organization are to furnish the best kind of music for Vesper services and other sacred and social functions, and to promote the study of, and interest in, the classics of choral literature.

The first appearance of the Vesper Choir in its vestments was on Parents' Day at the informal dedication of the new auditorium. The numbers used on this occasion were "Song of the Marching Men", by Daniel Protheroe, and "A Note of Golden Song", by Louis Victor Saar. During the year several other programs have been given, all of which have been most praise-worthy. Having reached such excellent standards in its initial year, there is no doubt but this marks the beginning of a notable musical organization.

Red and Black Pennsylvanians

During the 1930-1931 "season" at good old M. S. T. C., many orchestras have blossomed and many have faded and died. It has remained to the "Red and Black Pennsylvanians", under the capable and enthusiastic guidance of George Wilson, to carry on the tradition of a first class modern dance band at Mansfield.

Myriads of dancers, who have glided to the varied rhythms of the Red and Blacks, either at local functions or on out of town floors, offer criticisms that are predominately favorable, even to the point of flattery. This, in spite of the fact that, "You can't please all of the people all of the time."

The band personnel:

George Wilson, Director—plays mean sax.
 Gordon Lloyd—makes the tenor talk.
 Robert Grant—3rd sax and sings.
 Marion Shumway—1st B-flat cornet.
 Howard Hallock—silver trumpet.
 Kenneth Ayers—drummer and "bo-bo" king.
 William Knowlton, Mike—"the banjoist".
 Edward Ingraham—pleasing piano.
 Charles Hulslander—firm foundation.

The Tri-Beta Society

The Tri-Beta Society was organized early in the fall of 1930 with the hope of ultimate affiliation with a National Professional Music Fraternity.

The Society derived its name from the three "B" initials of Bach, Beethoven and Brahms, immortal in music, and dedicated itself to the promotion of the cause of music both at school and in the world at large as well as the inculcation of the spirit of brotherhood among its members.

This Society has established itself on the campus as one of sincere purpose and outstanding talent. In an effort to raise money for the affiliation with the National organization the Society has presented delightful Musicales and programs both at the college and in several towns within a radius of one hundred miles.

The Tri-Beta Society owes much of its success to the helpful co-operation of Mrs. Grace Steadman, the Dean of Music, and to Mr. Gerald E. Greeley, a member of the faculty who is also a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a National Professional Music Fraternity. Indications point to the successful fulfillment of the hope of the charter members in the very near future.

Domicilian Club

The Domicilian Club, one of the oldest societies on the campus, is exclusively for students of the Home Economics Department. The club is a member of the American Home Economics Association, thus keeping the member in touch with national subjects of interest to Home Economics students.

The club maintains a student loan fund. This fund is secured from dues and money earned through various activities, such as serving Sunday morning breakfasts. Each year, this loan has been used by a Senior. She returns it from her first year's earnings.

This year the club has been able to sponsor a number of very good speakers. They were as follows: Dr. R. Adams Dutcher, head of the Department of Biochemistry of Penn State College; Miss Marjorie Hazelton, head of the Food Research Department of Hill Brothers; Miss Madge Boggart, of the Home Economics Extension Service of Penn State College; Miss Mabel Trilling, Professor of Home Economics Education in Carnegie Institute of Technology; and Mrs. John Phillips, Chairman of the Department of Women's Clubs.

Home Economics

The greatest institution in the world, the home, which decrees whether a nation shall rise or fall, conquer or be conquered, is fostered by two people—a mother and a father. It is they who further posterity, nurture it into a nation of healthy young people and trustworthy citizens. Contrary to tradition, the present generation believes that the responsibility rests equally on both parents and children. Therefore it is in the home that a nation puts its trust.

Who is better fitted to help found a home than one who has been taught to instruct others? When a girl has finished her course in Home Economics she has more than sufficient knowledge of the mechanics of a household. If she is planning to instruct others, her knowledge should better hundreds of homes. If she is planning to establish a home of her own, it should be a very successful one. When a girl has had training to be a teacher, her knowledge should be such that she will be able to instruct those about her, be they her family or helpers; to place a higher value upon family life.

One of the important features in the home is correct feeding. New knowledge has been made available in feeding by means of experimentation with albino rats. The Nutrition Class secured eight albino rats for practical experience in experimental procedure and observation of results of feeding various diets. Records of diets used, gains and losses in weight, were charted weekly. The students, by these experiments, proved that food does make a difference as evidenced by changes in various physical characteristics. The results of such experiments emphasize the importance of right food habits in the home.

The instructor and students of the Child Development Class organized, for the first time, a play-school enrolling twelve of Mansfield's pre-school children. This was held one afternoon a week, using the building and equipment of the kindergarten.

Activities

Frosh Frolic

Cinderella may be a mere fairy tale to many people, but it is often enacted in real life. The Class of 1934 seemed to be in Cinderella's shoes at the beginning of the year '31. Her big sisters, the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes, had literally and figuratively put the poor Frosh among the cinders. But a fairy godmother, in the form of Professor Irving T. Chatterton, Frosh class sponsor, came to the rescue and Cinderella went to the Ball.

Yes, the Frosh, and her big sisters also, donned their glass slippers and went to the gym, January 17, 1931, for the Frosh Frolic. And the glass slippers were not a bit out of place in the veritable fairy ballroom which Carl Johnson and the decorating committee created out of the gym. The Red and Blacks furnished music, which would have made the "Pipes of Pan" sound like a Jew's Harp. Nectar fit for the gods themselves was served in the form of punch, along with cookies such as the gods had never tasted.

There were other fairy agencies, such as sponsors and committees, responsible for Cinderella's success, to whom she, the Frosh Class of 1930-31 pledges her undying gratitude and praise.

Sophomore Hop

"The greater the patron, the greater the dance." George Washington was patron, and on the eve of his birthday, February 21, the dancers of Freshman, Junior, and Senior classes, as well as the Sophomore terischoreans danced in celebration. And who could keep their feet still when "Hack" Swain and his Rhythm Boys blared out those syncopated melodies? Even the sedatest Seniors and sternest Faculty members "held their time."

In due respect to our patron—we decorated in Red, White, and Blue, with here and there a cluster of many colored balloons.

"The good old gym was all decked out,— Pep, Vim and Vigor—that was no place for gout."

Junior Cotillion

Saint Patrick's season brings with it the annual Junior Cotillion with all its fascinating beauty. This year a new and novel type of decorations appeared in the "gym." Green and white garlands mixed with streamers hid the unsightly places. Designs worked upon the receding spots brought them into the foreground.

The Red and Black Pennsylvanians supplied an unusually fine brand of music which relieved the feet of weight and the mind of cares. During intermission a well arranged program, befitting the moments of rest, pleased everyone.

A unique type of program was introduced. They took the form of check books. In keeping with the season the covers were green with the college seal in silver artistically placed on them.

Tasty refreshments assisted the other factors in making the evening a successful one. Shamrock cookies and delicious punch satisfied the taste of even the most discriminate.

Senior Ball

In a beautifully decorated hall, to the strains of Johnny Matzer and his Californians' eleven piece orchestra, the class of '31 brought to a climax the events of their senior year. The Gym was transformed with a new ceiling of white, entwined with pink, and walls of crepe paper strips in rose and white. A crystal ball in a delightful little garden in the center of the floor reflected in glancing beams the colored lights which played upon it. The entire hall formed a fitting background for the greatest event of the year.

One hundred eighty couples attired in their best danced to the scintillating music which Johnny Matzer and his men produced. Could you think of a better combination—pretty girls, handsome men (or at least so they looked then), good music, and everyone with the determination to enjoy himself to the fullest?

During the intermission everyone gravitated toward the Dining Room to partake of the delicious lunch of fruit salad, nuts and strawberry sundae served there.

After the refreshments everyone resumed dancing with renewed vigor and enthusiasm. The Senior Ball of '31 was indeed an occasion worthy of the class who sponsored it.

“M” Club Dance

True to tradition which is ever-present and all-powerful, especially during those mellow months of autumn when the hands of the clock of activities point constantly to football, the 1931 edition of the “M” Club treated the members of the student body to a dance in the Gym.

In spite of the fact that the boys had been a bit unlucky in the fray of the afternoon, the refreshments and music furnished by the Varsity men went very far toward giving the new month of November a rousing welcome from the “Eds” and Co-eds” of the campus.

Private “M” Club Dance

For some time it has been conceded that the private dance sponsored by and for the members of the “M” Club and their guests is the dance of the social season at Mansfield. It is not surprising, then that the concession became even more firmly founded than ever with the advent of the evening of April eighteenth, which was the date set for the event.

Something about the differentness of being in the Gym at the Junior High School and the spicy effect created by “Dud” Wilson and his Red and Blacks seemed to throw over those present a dreamy atmosphere which smacked of southern climes. In spite of the fact that the affair was abruptly terminated at 9:45 there was no doubt in the minds of the dancers that the dance certainly was the social event of the season.

Eskimo Hop

To the music of the Red and Blacks the Music Supervisors put on a dance under the unique name given above. By this title it is not meant that those present looked like Eskimos, danced like Eskimos, or were in any way as cold as the term signifies. It merely means that during a wintry part of the term and under wintry decorations and served with wintry refreshments the dance took place and was acclaimed a decided success.

Formal Music Supervisors’ Dance

To the Music Supervisors much credit may be given by the student body for a number of enjoyable entertainments open to everybody. The aforementioned function, however, was a closed affair and, unless one was lucky enough to receive an invitation from some fair gentlemen of the Music Supervisors’ Course or, luckier still, to be the recipient of the honor of escorting an even fairer lady member of the organization, it was practically impossible to attend.

The scene of the activities was in the Junior High School and the music was capably furnished by an outside orchestra. The dance, as usual, was over at 9:30 and everybody reported an enjoyable evening.

Chronicles

Highlights and Holidays of 1931

September 2—

A grand reunion of former students with lots of gushing here and there, general hub-bub, and amid it all a new species, called the Freshman, altogether timid and depressed, peers out.

The Y. W. welcomes the girls at an informal tea in the afternoon—it was much appreciated by all, especially the new students.

Remember the good time we had at the Get-together? Just a few songs, dances and lots of spirit!

September 3—

General assembly at eight o'clock in the new auditorium—too bad some of this enthusiasm for classes doesn't hold over until February at least.

Freshmen meet in the Gym with Miss Fischer and the Women's Council. Not a bad looking lot, those new Frosh!

Just imagine! a choice of a Gym dance or movies in town for the evening's entertainment. Many were bold enough to try the town vitaphone and even survived it.

September 4—

And so to classes. Well, after all, that's what we're here for, so they say. Big Sisters and Little Sisters divide into groups and hike for the afternoon; apples and pretzels were "the spirits."

A most enjoyable evening at the Faculty-Student Reception—games, dancing, singing, eats, etc. "So this is college?"

September 5—

A few more of us venture to class—but maybe we'd better wait 'til Monday. What Ho! A movie and good music in the auditorium. What a relief from the benches in the Gym—but then there's that arm between Myrtle and Johnnie which they tell us is not so good.

September 6—

Tennis weather holds good and the boys arrange a tournament. Everyone is busy pounding fingers (incidentally getting the cutains hung), getting settled and ready to attend the big Gym dance in the evening. And a few more of the girls rate with those good-looking Frosh.

September 7—

Sunday all day. The Women's Student Government holds a supper in the "Y" rooms at which the ever delightful Mrs. Doane entertains. Dr. Straughn talks in vespers—a truly inspiring message.

September 8—

Tut! Tut! the little dears have already forgotten their boy friends at home and are strolling around the campus, carried off by some wonderful senior. Ruthie Hoffman led singing on the "Y" porch.

September 9—

North Hall is not a very inviting place just now, but wait 'til we get fixed up. Nothing like a few squads of workmen to serenade one at 7:00 A. M.

September 10—

Mr. Pinchot passes through town, stopping to talk in front of the bank—think of it! Those lucky enough to hear him were not disappointed.

September 12—

Y. M. and Y. W. entertain us in the Gym with an interesting program followed by dancing.

September 13—

Just a few of us have Saturday classes, but that doesn't say that we go to them. Another good movie in the auditorium with the good music not expected.

September 15—

Only 86 more shopping days until Christmas.

September 16—

For some reason or other the churches have a joint reception in the High School this year. This eliminates the old problem of how to take care of certain parts of the receptions when they were all held on the same night.

Mrs. Belknap coaches a village school act which is really awfully funny.

September 17—

The Big Fair comes to town. Now, boys, don't try to sneak under that back fence.

September 19—

Having indulged in the Fair and survived, many go home for the week-end. The rest enjoy a dance in the Gym.

September 20—

No Saturday classes. Nell, Lyd and Betty return for the Fair (?) and a visit.

September 24—

Miss Fischer and Mr. Storch entertain the Councils at a picnic hike. The eats consisted of hamburgs, cake, fruit, hamburgs, coffee, rolls, cake, and HAMBURGS.

September 29—

Big Gym Dance.

October 1—

Why, hello! Haven't seen you since last month.

October 3—

Phi Sigma Pi entertains at a Jitney Dance. Howard Marsh is featured this year with Kay Williams—what a whale of a difference just a few months make!

October 4—

Cheer for old State College! Mansfield takes Ithaca Physical Ed. out in a score of 20-7 at her first game. Movies in the evening at the auditorium.

October 7—

Ye dignified Seniors steal a moment of their valuable time to primp for Carontawan pictures. Club publicity in chapel.

October 8—

Athletic Club hikes up to Oakwood. Now girls, what would your mothers say if they saw you swimming in October.

October 9—

More club publicity in Chapel. Y. W. has impressive candle light service in the evening.

October 10—

And tonight we see the proverbial Two Facer in a triple role (Seven Faces)—good movie sponsored by the German Club.

October 11—

Rurban Club decides to get away from the dust and rush of Mansfield City, so picnics at Robin Hood. Our pig skin chasers take a beating at Lock Haven—better luck next time, team! Gym dance in the evening.

October 12—

Columbus Day too, please.

October 14—

Only 57 more shopping days 'til Christmas.

October 16—

Geoffrey Morgan tells us in Chapel that the younger generation is not going to the dogs after all. Relief!

October 17—

Miss Rumenknapp shows us some real interpretative dancing—interpret it as you like. "Four Devils," a Paramount picture, helped make the Y. M. evening a success.

October 18—

Whoopee! Gotta way to go to Bloom! What? Why today's the big game at Bloom. And we handed them a moral beating although the score was 6-6. Gyn dance in the evening.

October 22—

Mr. Cornish favors us with a few movie reels which he took on the campus last Commencement week; some of us see ourselves as others see us and much is the shock to our vanities.

October 24—

Dr. MacDaniel lectures to us through the courtesy of the Latin department.

October 25—

At last the big day has arrived—Parent's day—followed by much weeping and wailing. But really it was a great day with the informal dedication of the auditorium in the morning and football with Dickinson in the afternoon. Sorry, but we had the odds against us on the gridiron once more. A very well acted play put on by the Y. W. helped to take off the sting, though.

October 29—

Bishop O'Reilly, of Scranton, speaks to students at 3:00 p. m.

October 30—

Y. W. holds a meeting at 9:00 P. M. and Miss Doane tells of the origin of Hallowe'en, together with a few ghost stories. Then up to sixth floor and an apple scramble.

October 31—

'n the goblins'll git cha if ya don't watch out! A hugely successful Hallowe'en dance this year. We never knew that Alfred Gould could be so funny, and to have seen the faculty—oh, oh! Dot Coveney took the prize for the prettiest costume.

November 1—

Take off your mask—Hallowe'en is over.

Mansfield vs. Stroudsburg with our gang underneath so far as the score was concerned.

Open "M" Dance in the evening and a mighty nice affair, too.

November 2—

Only 45 more shopping days 'til Christmas.

November 3—

Pay Day—Another chance to unburden ourselves of this filthy lucre called cash.

November 4—

Count von Luckner, the Sea Devil of World War fame, brings us a few hair-raising experiences. An altogether interesting speaker.

November 7—

Tri Beta, a new honorary musical fraternity, sponsors a high school musical by school talent.

November 8—

Football with Cortland today. Too bad fellows—what we need is a little old school spirit around here. Our defeat was a 32-6 score.

November 9—

Starting National Education Week with Mr. Retan in Vespers.

November 10—

The Ganonkwenons meet once more. Now, I ask you, what's the use of trying to stick anyone on a name like that?

November 11—

On which day we think the good old times must be back again, for the boys seem to be coming from somewhere with their gallon jugs and indeed feeling in altogeth'er high spirits.

Today George Moriarity, former umpire for World Series games, talks in Chapel about some of his thrillers on the baseball field.

November 13—

In honor of Education Week, Kappa Delta Pi sponsors some excellent living pictures in Chapel. Much should be said about the way this new organization is functioning on the campus.

November 14—

"Only 38"—not players, but the name of the Dramatic Club play. A finished production with much action and plot.

November 15—

EUREKA! Mansfield comes through with a victory over Oswego in her last game of the season—39-13. Heap big dance in the Gym followed by our one and only Bon Fire of the season.

November 17—

New furniture arrives for first floor "Well", which is no more. Three on a davenport and one to a chair, please.

November 19—

Mrs. Marvin tells in all-women's meeting about Psychopathic social work and its possibilities as a profession for women.

November 21—

Y. M. Minstrel featuring Jazz Childs on his toes.

Dance in honor of approaching holiday.

November 26—

Noon time spells vacation today and inside of one hour all have scattered to the four winds for a rest (?).

December 1—

Oh Hum! Now for a chance to recuperate before we go home again. The grand contest is on to see who can tell the biggest whoppers about his vacation tears (tares).

December 2—

Mr. Oldfield entertains in chapel with some of his delightful children's poems. His nom de plume is Ben Fields.

December 3—

By way of variation for social evening, the Music Sûps entertain in the auditorium.

December 4—

Mr. Ross gives an organ recital of Christmas music. This serves as a joint "Y" meeting.

December 5—

Rurban Club presents "Miss Lulu Bett". We didn't know we had so much unvoiced talent.

December 6—

Rurban Day. Mr. O'Shea, of Harrisburg, gives an enlightening talk on "Delinquency in Schools". In the afternoon the Y. W. stages its annual bazaar with a successful college dance in the evening.

December 11—

In view of our approaching chronological maturity, Mrs. Straughn advises us on affiliating ourselves with a political party—the second all-women's meeting.

December 12—

Dr. Dutcher, head of agriculture department at Penn State, comes up to give an illustrated lecture on nutrition. It is interesting to note what experiments have been made along these lines and it rather behooves us to watch our vitamins.

December 13—

One of Mr. Gilbert's contemporaries in a Lyceum number—Mr. Bockewitz, who is a clever chalk talker.

December 14—

Not to be outdone, Mr. Gilbert appears in Vespers as an introduction to Art Week.

December 15—

Have you noticed the splendid art exhibit in the library?

December 18—

A big day in the history of our new auditorium—a christening day, as it were—when Mr. W. W. Allen, President of the Board of Trustees, formally dedicates the building and names it Straughn Hall.

Bo McMillian, former All-American star, now football coach at the University of Kansas, was a witty and charming speaker for the hour.

December 19—

Mr. Kirby, head of the Department of Art in Harrisburg, is guest of the Art Club, and as such is entertained at tea in the afternoon. The evening's program consisted of an illustrated lecture by Dr. Kirby on "Phases of Art."

December 20—

And to wind up Art Week the club sponsors a movie.

December 21—

A most effective Christmas pageant by the Y. M. and Y. W. "Why the Chimes Ring", was the special Vesper program. Miss White gave a recital in the Y. W. in the afternoon.

December 22—

What a day! Merely a matter of getting those few classes out of the way so we may get ready for the gala event of the evening. Each table in the dining room was artistically decorated and songs were enjoyed during the meal.

After our delicious Christmas dinner there was a grand rush to the Gym, where everyone had a fine time until ten o'clock rang and—"a Merry Christmas to all and to all good night!"

December 23—

Our Merry Christmases were very much subdued and everyone left sadly because of the death of Betty Green—a charming girl, well liked by all of the students and an excellent member of the Women's Council.

January 5—

Again we return, this time to settle our caps for three long months of study (?) after vacation.

January 7—

Captain Dinnie Upton in Chapel today. Talk about an orator—that fellow has it all over anyone. After getting us in a good mood, Captain Upton gave up some of the real truths of life. Think he was one of our best, so far, don't you?

January 9—

Music Sūps hold forth in the Eskimo Hop at the Gym. Good crowd, peppy music.

January 10—

The first basketball game of the season. Too bad Dickinson had to take us over.

January 11-16—

And still Exams.

January 17—

End of the first semester as well as several of us. The annual Frosh Frolic took the form of the usual matinee from 1:30 'til 5:30. Nice dance, Frosh!

Movies in the evening.

January 19—

Nothing like a change in classes—just so we have plenty of them. Big mid-semester gym dance. Frank Shepard and his five nickels proved excellent, as always.

January 22—

Doctor Marshall tells the girls in the All-Women's Meeting the values of reading in anyone's leisure time.

January 23—

At last our worries are over! Why? Let the Televox, Electrical Mechanical Man, do your work. He was exhibited here today by the Western Electric Company, and did his tricks without a break. In the evening, Miss White, Dr. Butler and Mr. Greeley gave a music recital which was exceptionally fine. We did not realize we had such talented faculty.

January 24—

While our Basketball Team strove to carry off honors at Stroudsburg, but failed, our Wrestling Team attempted its first meet here with Ithaca Physical Ed. School—a victory for us. The Y. M. dance in the evening was one of those "just right" dances—just right in every way.

January 25—

German Club week opens with a lecture by our friend, Dr. Koischwitz, and he proves just as captivating as formerly.

January 27—

Dr. Koischwitz again in Chapel. His topic was "Sectionalism in Germany."

January 30—

True to custom the week is closed by a dance in the gym (not a gym dance, please) sponsored by the Germans. Suhocke doubled for the gypsy mind-reader and brought new hope to us by the nickel's worth. Most of us are still waiting for some of it to come true.

January 31—

An entertainment number by Miss Anne Frierson, who portrayed the Gullah negro of South Carolina in a most fascinating manner. Our Basketball Team again came through with Bloomsburg on top.

February 2—

Only six more weeks of winter—thanks to old Mr. Ground Hog.

February 6—

Mr. Wissow, of Lester Concert Ensemble entertains with a most original and modern program.

February 7—

Mansfield wrestlers prove again victorious—this time making Wyoming Seminary their prey. Better luck next time to our basketeers—Stroudsburg at Mansfield. In the evening the Flashlight treated us to a novelty program by Mr. Ross on the organ; also a good movie made the evening complete.

February 11—

At last we have ideal college life and can actually get out of class to attend the movies. The Western Electric Company wired Straughn Hall and gave demonstrations in talking as aids to visual education. Count our vote as "Yes" when it comes to installing a "talkie" here.

February 13—

Not such an unlucky Friday the 13th for us—.

February 14—

Basketball with Lock Haven in the afternoon and a mighty fast game at that. Valentine Dance sponsored by Y. W. in the evening was a charming affair.

February 16—

Rollo Maitland, a former organist on the Wanamaker organ in Philadelphia gives an organ recital in Straughn Hall. His numbers were varied so he might use all the facilities our organ offers. We were fortunate in being able to hear him.

February 17—

Jesse Prugh, the famous humorist, gives us a few of life's common truths imbedded in a keen wit. In other words he fooled us very cleverly into swallowing a sugar-coated pill.

February 19—

Mrs. Wallace, head nurse of Blossburg Hospital, talks on Everyday Health at the February All Women's Meeting.

February 20—

The basketball game at Ithaca proved a sorry defeat for the Red and Blacks once more; but the wrestling here with Cortland proved most exciting.

In the evening as a Lyceum number "Shavings," the Joseph C. Lincoln play, was presented. The pathos was too much for some of us—right?

February 21—

First formal of the year i. e., the Soph Hop. These late dances just about wrecked some of us! The wrestlers at Alfred withstood defeat in their last match.

February 22—

Washington's Birthday here, too.

February 24—

Because of Athletic Club week Doctor Doughton talks in Chapel on "Good Sportsmanship." We are lucky to have men like Dr. Doughton on our faculty. His talk was excellent.

February 26—

Athletic Club Play in Chapel.

February 27—

At last our basketeers come into their own and bring home the laurels from Elizabeth College. Vaudeville by the Athletic Club showed us Flo Ziegfield hasn't been around here lately—a good dance in the gym afterwards made Friday night a huge success.

March 1—

Mansfield cleans up on our own court today at a thrilling game.

March 4—

At last some of us can have a chance to be popular. Miss Thomas has kindly consented to sponsor a dancing class. Get your tickets early and avoid the rush!

March 5—

Which day has proven to be most interesting. Mrs. Gifford Pinchot lectures and shows movies of the Pinchot family's trip to the South Sea Islands. A most worthwhile and interesting trip it must have been, to unexplored lands. Seeing "Giffie" in his moments made us believe he must be quite human after all.

March 6—

Mansfield closes her season of basketball by a slight defeat from Ithaca here. In the evening the Edna White Quartet and Singer gave a varied program which helped restore our old belief in music which has so much competition here.

March 7—

The ΦΣΠ resort to the Junior High gym for a Prom which was one of the "select" affairs of the year. The rest of us have at last a Saturday free.

March 10—

Being very lucky this year, we procured another splendid man of the Washington Star newspaper who told of his travels in Japan, and illustrated his talk by pictures taken by himself.

March 12—

Our worthy trustees are shown what our Junior Home Ecs. can really do in the way of a dinner.

March 13—

The Annual Women's Student Government Tea again proved a success and a bit of nourishment for the Senior High Operetta, which took place in the evening. Much relief to our friends, the Music Sūps.

March 14—

As a Junior Prom, tonight, this one was a WOW! You know, shamrocks, green punch, harps, 'n what not.

March 15—

The Vesper Choir rendered "Gallia" during Vespers in a most impressive manner.

March 17—

Which turned out to be a real St. Patrick's Day—with all the trimmin's—thanks to Miss Mulcaster.

March 18—

Today a delegation from the Music Sūps accompanied Mrs. Steadman to Syracuse for the Eastern Music Supervisor's Conference. We are not sure, but are afraid some of them didn't spend much time in conference! That is, music conference.

March 20—

This weekend the "M" Club assumes the responsibility of entertaining us. They certainly shouldered that well tonight in the form of a vaudeville, orchestra, "melerdrama" and what not!

March 21—

Bring last night's tickets and attend the big dance by the same "M" Club.

March 22—

In preparation for the Easter season, a pageant was effectively portrayed by the Y. M. and Y. W.

March 26—

In lieu of Better Rooms Campaign, Boys' Council visits the prize winning rooms—oh! oh! Miss Wheeler has the floor at the All Women's Meeting. Her talk on "Interior Decorating" was a timely one and well received.

March 27—

The Paramount talkie installs its apparatus and we have a real honest-to-goodness all talkie. John McCormack in "Song of My Heart," with selected news reels and short topics.

March 28—

Pre-Easter dance with orchestra, 'n everything!

March 29—

Another choir number, "Daughter of Jairus,"—excellently given and we appreciate the much effort given to it.

March 31—

Mansfield entertains four persons from Western Teachers College of Kalamazoo, Michigan, and debates the question of "State Medicine". We were splendidly represented but lost the decision by one vote.

April 1—

Just because you expect it, we won't say "April Fool." However, the Flashlight did and a mighty clever number they put out, too. Miss Mulcaster pulled a fast one by sending all the coffee pots in full of hot water. However, the Easter dinner at night made up for everything.

April 2—

What! You don't know what the excitement is all about! Well, here's the "Cheerful Earfull"—the Easter bunny says—go home.

April 3—

April 4—

April 5—

Far be it from this book to print what goes on during these days and nights.

April 6—

Now for the grand finale to the school year 1930-1931. Some of us would just as soon have a longer vacation, but every bit helps.

April 7—

And still we straggle in from vacation! Miss Trilling of Home Ec. fame is entertained by her followers here at Mansfield. A real treat to entertain so famous a person.

April 8—

Um, Um, ain't these spring days fetching? Watch the grand parade.

April 9—

"Just another day."

April 10—

"The Rose Maiden," a cantata, was presented by the Music Supervisors. It was an excellent piece of work, beautifully done, and much credit is due those who took part.

April 11—

Just an ordinary Saturday except for the "Music Maker's Mixup" in the evening at the Junior High. And what a mixup. It's even been whispered around the campus that Mr. Storch lost his tie, Mrs. Straughn her flowers, and Mr. Myers one of his studs. Such moonlights!

April 12—

A delightful vesper program, furnished by Mr. Ross.

April 15—

The senior members of the "M" Club in a few pledges amid shouts of laughter from all present.

April 17—

Count Luckner recounts some more of his thrilling experiences in that manner so characteristic to him. A real master of experience.

April 18—

The "M" Club stages a successful formal in the Junior High Gym. The results were not so drastic as on the preceding week-end, however. (No ties lost.)

April 22—

Again our debaters sally forth—this time to crush our ever-present rivals, Bloom.

April 23—

Helen Gill, delegate to the Eastern States Conference in New York, recounts in Women's Meeting a few of the bits she gleaned from the conference. In the evening another group of our debaters attack Clarion at Mansfield.

April 24—

The Junior Music Sūp party and the Phi Sigma Pi banquet take care of a few of us. The rest always have the special show at the Star Theatre for a bit of consolation.

April 25—

And now for the real dance—The Senior Ball. A bigger success than ever, this year. People from all over the country—gorgeously arrayed—and what music!

April 26—

The beginning of Better Homes Week with Chapel programs on Tuesday and Thursday. What a revelation to us all!

May 2—

Rather a risky day for some of us (Danville, you know), but since Dr. Pike had become familiar with us in Mansfield, we were spared. Much interest was displayed in this comparatively new field. The Kappa Delpians had a splendid banquet in the evening. Bloomsburg played us in baseball.

May 6—

Baseball at Cortland.

May 9—

Stroudsburg here and the Flashlight banquet.

May 23—

"No more pencils. No more books, etc." Classes end for this year and we celebrate Alumni Day with dinner and all the fixin's.

May 24—

Baccalaureate service; band concert and orchestra concert in evening.

May 25—

Class Day—Opera—Well attended and nicely executed.

May 26—

9:30 A. M.—Amen. The ending and commencing for we 1931'ers.

1915-1916

And now it's over. Of the recording of your work and play this is the end. If you've enjoyed this book, tell us; if not, don't mention it—let us sing our "Swan Song" with the smugness and complacency of mind that comes from the thought that we have built for you a year book that's really worth while.
